INFORMAL OKAY ON $9 MILLION DEAL LIKELY . . .

CPPD, City Expected To Approve Sale Pact

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Consumers Public Power District and the City of Lincoln are expected to give informal approval this week to a sales agreement contract totaling nearly $9 million for the purchase of CPPD property in Lincoln and parts of Lancaster County.

Two other documents are expected to receive a tentative okay Friday, including:

—an operating agreement whereby Consumers will operate the city-purchased properties until Dec. 31, 1971, in return for a service management and engineering fee.

—a long-term wholesale power contract under which the city agrees to purchase 175,000 kilowatts of energy from Consumers until 1992. This represents the total capacity of the two steam generation units at CPPD's Hallam plant.

To Meet Friday

The Consumers board will meet in Lincoln Friday to consider the contracts. Also scheduled that day is an informal meeting of the City Council.

Once CPPD's board gives its tentative approval, the documents will be filed with Consumers' trustee for inspection.

An ordinance authorizing signature of the contracts is expected to be introduced at the City Council meeting next Monday, and should be ready for final reading with the emergency clause on Nov. 1.

Signing Next Month

Actual signature of the pacts is scheduled for sometime next month.

The sales agreement, it was understood, includes:

—approximately $5.5 million for property outside Lincoln (but including trucks, equipment, office supplies and other such items) to be raised by issuance of bonds by the city. —approximately $3.4 million for Lincoln's retail distribution system and other properties under a lease-sale agreement which provides for payments each year until 1972 from the system's gross revenue.

The approximate $9 million total compares with earlier estimates of about $7.5 million.

Included in the agreement is Lincoln purchase of retail distribution properties in the incorporated communities of Denton, Roca, Sprague, Waverly and West Lincoln as well as properties in several unincorporated villages and some rural areas.

Tentative agreement on the package plan had been announced last January.

The city now serves about one-third of Lincoln's retail electric load, while Consumers serves the other two-thirds. Total combined annual revenue is expected to reach about $10 million.

Lost Hunters Found Dead In Wreckage

Sioux Falls, S.D. (AP) — Five persons were found dead Tuesday in the wreckage of a light plane carrying a party of pheasant hunters from Jackson, Miss.

Supt. Theodore Arndt of the South Dakota motor patrol said the victims had been identified as the missing Mississippi men.

The plane carrying the Mississippians disappeared Monday night on a flight from Pierre, S.D., to Little Rock, Ark. The wreckage was found on the G. W. Britton Ranch five miles west of Stephan Mission in central South Dakota.

The plane was piloted by Dr. Ben N. Walker, a general practitioner, about 40, described as an experienced pilot.

Others aboard were Dr. John S. Sanders, a dentist; Dr. Norman Bernstein, a physician; T. Noland Touchstone, an architect, and his brother, William Touchstone, an architectural engineer. All were from Jackson.

HUAC Hears Expert

Washington (AP) — Congressional investigators sought to show Tuesday that Ku Klux Klan Grand Dragon Robert M. Shelton finagled the Klan's bank account by using disguised signatures on its checks.

The House Un-American Activities Committee (HUAC), opening long-awaited hearings on the Klan, called a government handwriting expert who also worked on documents in the trial of Alger Hiss.

The expert, Philip Schmitz, testified that signatures of James J. Hendrix on Klan checks actually were written by Shelton's wife, Betty L. Shelton.

He said another signature of T. M. Montgomery on a Klan check actually was the writing of Mrs. Carol Long, alleged to be a secretary employed by the group at its Tuscaloosa, Ala., headquarters.

Shelton, his wife and Mrs. Long pleaded the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer all questions. They also invoked the First, Fourth and 14th Amendments.

73 Times

Shelton, a slender 36-year-old in a conservative grey suit and flashing a diamond ring on his left hand, refused to answer 73 times. He seemed calm and self-possessed as he did so and as he refused to produce Klan documents subpoenaed by the committee.

As the hearing opened Tuesday morning, HUAC investigators said they had located 381 Klan units in a 10-month search, but were hampered by the terror they said the Klan inspires in many parts of the South.

"These people fear harassment, threatening letters, telephone calls, cross burnings on their property, beatings, bombings, and, yes, even death," said Donald T. Appell, chief committee investigator.

The morning session was devoted to an elaborate presentation by HUAC staffers of the history of the Klan since its founding after the Civil War, its long record of violence, and its spread in the South and a few Northern states in the past two years.

Maps of each Southern state were flashed on a large screen, with dots representing the various "klaverns" or local Klan clubs. At the end the investigators told newsmen that of the 381 klaverns they found, 260 are affiliated with Shelton's United Klans, and others belong to a dozen splinter groups.

Mystic Titles

There was a murmur of laughter in the room when Appell flashed the mystic titles Klan officials use in their klaverns, such as exalted cyclops (president), Klaliff (vice president), Klakard (lecturer), Kludd (chaplain), Kligrapp (secretary), Klabee (treasurer), Kladd (conductor), Klargo (inner guard), and lexter (outer guard).

With Shelton refusing to answer any questions, HUAC staffers read into the record evidence that he is president, or grand dragon, or imperial wizard, of the United Klans of America, the largest of the Klan groups.

Consumers Gets $5.2 Million Reimbursement For Hallam

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Consumers Public Power District Tuesday received a $5.2 million check from the Atomic Energy Commission, reimbursing CPPD for its costs associated with construction of the nuclear reactor at Hallam.

CPPD's full costs had totaled $5.7 million, but Consumers will keep $470,000 in equipment for use at Hallam under its present conventional steam operations.

The $470,000 figure represents costs involved in construction and equipment of certain buildings, including the control center.

The reimbursement from AEC will help pay the costs of proposed construction at Hallam permitting CPPD to make full use of its two turbine generators.

Before The Board

Consumers takes its $6.9 million construction request—which includes installation of a second boiler and modification of the plant's first generator—before the Nebraska Power Review Board Wednesday.

A hearing is scheduled for 9:30 a.m.

No other power districts have filed objections to the proposed construction plan.

CPPD General Manager Durwood Hill of Columbus said Consumers is "actively pursuing a program to keep the Hallam nuclear reactor on the line."

A decision must be forthcoming by March on whether Consumers will exercise its option to purchase the nuclear facility or make arrangements for future possible use, Hill said.

Shut Down 13 Months

The reactor has been shut down for 13 months, and AEC last August announced termination of its nuclear power plant contract with Consumers.

Hill said he remains "very optimistic" about future use of the facility.

The reactor was shut down following leakage problems in the core.

AEC's reimbursement check was delivered in Chicago to CPPD Assistant Treasurer C. W. Prentice and Assistant Secretary F. M. Dischner, both of Columbus.

Hill said Consumers is now negotiating with AEC for further reimbursement of funds associated with losses in power costs, extraordinary maintenance and other costs resulting from the reactor.

Involved is "a sizable chunk of money," Hill said, perhaps four or five million dollars.

Negotiations may take 60 to 90 days, he said.

Seat-Belt Injuries Called Small Price For Safety

Atlantic City (AP) — A New York surgeon said Tuesday there's a growing although still comparatively small number of internal injuries due to automobile seat belts, but he stressed this is still "a small price to pay for the life-saving powers of the belts."

Dr. Elliott S. Hurwitz of Albert Einstein College of Medicine also declared it's possible that many such injuries can be avoided in the future by "proper wearing and adjusting" of the belts — plus using gear that combines a shoulder harness with the belt worn across the pelvis.

It's conceivable, he told a news conference at the 51st congress of the American College of Surgeons, that at least some of the belt-related injuries that already have occurred were due to wearing the belt across the abdomen instead of the pelvis, and leaving it loosely adjusted rather than having it snug.

And his suggestions for possible prevention were echoed by Dr. H. Thomas Ballantine Jr., Harvard Medical School neurosurgeon, who also stressed the life-saving power of seat belts.

Dr. Ballantine, offering an estimate that of 43,000 traffic accident deaths in the United States in 1963, about 30,000 died due to consequences of a head injury, said he figures about 18,000 of the latter could have been saved by properly worn seat belts.

Dr. Ballantine, cautioning seat belt users to wear them at all times while driving, asserted, "It's the trip to the local grocery store (when people might leave off their belts) that is responsible for many fatal injuries."

Police, Court To Get Extra Space

By DICK BUDIG
Star Staff Writer

Remodeling the present City-County Health offices for use by the Lincoln Police Department and Municipal Court will begin in about two weeks, barring further delays, Public Safety Director Emmett Junge said Tuesday.

The major part of the estimated 7,000 square foot expansion will go to the Police Department, which will take over the entire ground floor of the health office.

Health office space on the upper floor will be remodeled into a "more adequate courtroom" for Judge Richard O. Johnson, Junge said.

Judge Johnson's courtroom is now located on the upper floor of the Fire Department office space. When the remodeling is finished, the courtroom will go back to the Fire Department.

Relocation

Police Department offices scheduled for relocation are records, detective bureau, city prosecutor, training room, assembly room and communications room.

The present records room on the second floor will be moved into what is now City-County Health Director Dr. George Underwood's office and laboratory.

Detectives and the city prosecutor will move into offices in the west end of the City-County space.

Police communications, now confined to a small room, will move one door north into what is now the assembly room. Communications is also scheduled to get a more modern switchboard.

Office Space

The assembly room will be moved to the basement training room and the training room will move to the second floor into what is now the detective bureau. Office space for Lt. Dale Adams, training officer, will also be provided on the second floor when the change-over is completed.

City-County health officials were to start moving into new quarters at 2200 St. Marys Friday. However, a delay in furniture shipment has stalled the operation for about two weeks, Junge said.

Barring another delay, the project will get under way in about two weeks and should be finished about 60 days thereafter, Junge added.

Cost of the project for which contracts have been let is $15,000, Junge noted.

FLOCK OF HONKERS . . . favorite of farmer.

Ex-Feather Farmer Not Down On Geese

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Dorchester—Some men like dogs, ponies or pet panthers; Sam Miller prefers Canadian geese.

His little game farm no longer hatches "most anything with feathers," but even at age 75 he won't give up his favorites. To him the geese—strutting, playfully swimming or simply arching their graceful necks—are the noblest of birds.

"I should get rid of them, they cause me so much grief," said the Saline county native. "Even with their wings pinioned, they're wild enough to want to move with the seasons and I've had to chase 'em all up and down the river."

He has trimmed his flock to 16, about one-third the number that once swam his specially-built pond. The place had also hosted wild turkeys, pheasants, ducks and four kinds of quail.

Practically loners now, the geese have for company "only" 75 guineas, 20 or so peacocks and more than 100 bantam chickens. The beautiful honkers take the eye of every visitor—including other geese.

"One year over 1,000 wild Canadas dropped in when they saw ours," said the farmer. "Another time a flock of Huthches liked the place so well they stayed for months."

Although the big birds do indeed mate for life as is commonly known, Miller pointed out that a survivor may eventually resume breeding. In the one instance he had occasion to document, however, three years passed before the remaining goose chose another mate.

Semi-retired, the Dorchester man and his wife of 53 years "wouldn't think of moving to town." Not even if they could take the geese along.

Viet Cong Starting To Defect By Unit

Saigon (UPI) — A Vietnamese military spokesman said Tuesday Communist Viet Cong troops are beginning to defect to South Vietnamese forces in entire small units, surrendering an "unusually high" number of weapons.

The disclosure came as U.S. infantrymen and Marines rounded up more than 140 suspected Viet Cong in separate sweeps north of Saigon and around the Chu Lai air base on the South China Sea coast.

Another communist guerrilla stronghold area—in the Ho Bo Woods 30 miles northwest of Saigon—was pounded Tuesday morning by Guam-based B52 bombers of the U.S. Strategic Air Command.

Scores of U.S. and Vietnamese planes bombed and strafed Viet Cong targets in South Viet Nam and staged new raids over the communist North. A U.S. military spokesman said a U.S. Air Force Phantom jet—the fourth Phantom to be downed in 48 hours over North Viet Nam—was shot down in one raid over the North. At least two other planes were missing in South Viet Nam.

In Saigon, a Vietnamese spokesman said there is now a growing trend for the Viet Cong to defect in small armed units, instead of giving themselves up one at a time.

During the past week, he said, 373 Viet Cong military and political personnel defected, bringing with them a light machine gun, 66 individual weapons and 55 grenades.

The spokesman said this was an "unusually high percentage of weapons" for the number of persons involved. He said the Viet Cong generally are organized in basic three-man teams, with each man watching the other two, and two weapons assigned to each group.

5 Persons Hurt In 2-Car Crash

Five persons were injured, none seriously, in a two-car rear-end collision at about 1300 West O Tuesday night.

Police said a car driven by Charles M. Smith, 35, of 2109 No. 27th was westbound on O and hit the rear of a car driven by Robert Thurston, 45, of 7201 Englewood as the Thurston car was westbound on O and slowing to make a turn off of O.

Listed in good condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital following the accident were Thurston and his wife, Esther L., 45. Treated and released from St. Elizabeth were Howard Riebeschl, 36, of 1315 No. 29th, Kenneth Gardner, 23, of 1121 North Park Blvd., and Smith.

Draft Card Burner Out On Bail, Ready For Jail

Manchester, N. H. (AP) — David J. Miller, 22, of Syracuse, N. Y., charged with destroying his draft card as a protest against U. S. military involvement in Viet Nam, was released on $500 bail from Hillsboro County jail Tuesday.

Bail was posted by Thomas Haessler, 36, of Jersey City, N. J., who identified himself as a teacher of theology at St. Peter's College, operated by the Catholic Jesuit order in Jersey City.

A federal grand jury in New York City indicted Miller Tuesday for knowingly mutilating and destroying a Selective Service card.

Pacifist

Haessler, an acknowledged pacifist, flew to Manchester earlier Tuesday with Thomas Cornell, 31, of New York City.

After a conference with U. S. Commissioner Peter J. Bourque, Haessler posted five traveler's checks as bail.

Upon his release, Miller was told by newsmen that Cornell had said earlier that he was reconciled to serving a jail term for burning his draft card.

"Well, I hope not," he said. "I would hope the law would be repealed but if jail comes I'll go."

A reporter asked Miller if he had really burned his draft card.

"It was my draft card and I burned it," he replied. The incident occurred last Friday during an anti-war demonstration outside the Armed Forces Induction Center in lower Manhattan.

The maximum penalty for the offense is five years imprisonment and a fine of $10,000.

Cornell was asked what he considered Miller's chances of going to jail and replied: "We think the chances of Dave's going to jail are very, very good and he is reconciled to this."

Publisher Ralph Ginzburg, who is 35, was asked if he would burn his draft card, assuming he had one. "I am against war in the 20th Century," he replied, "and I think I would if I had enough courage to."

A newsmen asked if he thought it took more courage to burn a draft card than to fight in Viet Nam. "Yes I do," Ginzburg replied.

LBJ Walks Over Mile

Washington (AP) — President Johnson spent his busiest day since his operation Tuesday — walking more than a mile, working on official business, including signing 22 bills, going to his dentist and reporting he felt "pretty good."

He has a routine medical examination scheduled Wednesday.

After that, presidential Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers said he might have some word on when the President will be going home.

It was Johnson's 12th day at Bethesda Naval Hospital since his gall bladder operation and removal of a kidney stone Oct. 8.

Johnson was in good spirits as he took a 55-minute stroll around the hospital grounds Tuesday morning, waving to patients and passersby.

Alabama High Court Asked To Disqualify 11 Veniremen

Hayneville, Ala. (AP) — The Alabama Supreme Court has asked Tuesday to disqualify 11 prospective jurors who said at the outset of a Ku Klux Klan's murder trial that they regard civil rights workers as inferior.

The court in Montgomery will hear arguments Wednesday morning on the request by Atty. Gen. Richmond Flowers.

The question raised by the attorney general brought a delay in the trial of Collier Leroy Wilkins Jr., who is charged with the slaying of a white Detroit mother of five and civil rights volunteer.

Circuit Judge T. Werth Thagard said the trial would be recessed until the supreme court rules on the Flowers motion, but he added that he might have to set a new trial date "if we don't get this thing started by early afternoon." Thagard said he has another trial scheduled for next week in another county in his circuit.

The judge rejected the attorney general's claim that the prospective jurors should be disqualified for prejudice.

Thagard had turned down the claim on the grounds that Alabama law spells out the grounds for qualifying jurors, and the allegation made by Flowers did not come within the scope of the law.

Flowers told newsmen he felt that if the jurors believed that a civil rights worker is inferior — and the victim of the slaying near Lowndesboro, Ala., last March 25, Mrs. Viola Liuzzo, was engaged in that work — "the impact of the crime would not appear to be as great in their minds."

Meanwhile, the jury panel was brought up to the required numerical strength of 30 names, and Flowers said he would be ready to start calling the state's witnesses Wednesday morning if the supreme court overrules his appeal on the issue of prejudice.

Hungarian Seeks U.S. Safe Harbor

Washington (AP) — The second secretary of the Hungarian embassy in London has asked for asylum in the United States and the request is under consideration, the State Department said Tuesday.

He is Laszlo Szabo, 42, an economics specialist who arrived in London about a month ago. State Department Press Officer Rob McCloskey said Szabo made the request two or three days ago.

The London embassy of Communist Hungary had reported Sunday that Szabo was missing from his home since Saturday.

Szabo's reported defection was the second from behind the Iron Curtain in less than a week.

Commissioner James T. Ramey said a National Academy of Sciences committee screening the 86 sites has not indicated when its recommendations will be sent to the AEC.

Burundi Rebellion Crushed

Leopoldville, The Congo, (AP) — A sudden flash revolt against the king of the new Central African nation of Burundi apparently has been crushed, reports from its capital said Tuesday night, but its premier was reported near death from wounds.

The predawn quiet of the nation's capital, Bujumbura, was shattered by rifle and mortar fire in the area of the royal palace and the Burundi army barracks, the reports said, in an attempt by still unidentified rebels to seize the nation. Six Burundians were reported killed in the palace grounds.

At that moment, according to messages from an aide, the constitutional monarch, Mwami (King) Mwambutsa IV, was in hiding although the palace was in rebel hands. The aide said that two hours later loyalist forces encircled the palace and the king was under loyalist protection.

Biha In Coma

The premier, Leopold Biha, was reported wounded in the head and chest by gunfire as he left his home in an attempt to reach the palace. The messages from Bujumbura said he was taken to a hospital where he was reported in a coma and in grave condition.

The secretary of state for defense, Michael Micombero, was reported missing.

The palace aide said he could not determine whether the mutineers were from police or army forces.

There has been intense political rivalry between feudal leaders of the Tutsi tribe, who have been influenced by Chinese Communists, and the Western-educated "young Turks" of the Hutu tribe in Burundi, a former Belgian trust territory which became independent in July 1962.

Red Chinese Booted

Burundi once was considered a hub of Red Chinese subversion operations in Central and East Africa. Red China maintained a greatly oversized embassy in the little nation until last January, when King Mwambutsa expelled the Chinese diplomats, accusing them of using Burundi as a base to support rebellion in the neighboring Congo with arms, money and propaganda.

Burundi has been in a state of unrest since May, when elections resulted in increased strength for forces opposed to the king. His choice of Biha for premier was regarded as a compromise.

Some sources familiar with Burundi said the revolt may have been a reflection of tribal differences between the Tutsi, of which the king is a member, and the more numerous Hutus.

Hard Times

Burundi, with 10,747 square miles, a nation only a little bigger than New Hampshire and Africa's most densely populated with 2.75 million people, has experienced difficulties since its independence three years ago.

Only a few days before the expulsion of Red Chinese diplomats, 29-year-old Premier Pierre Ngendandumwe was shot in the back and killed, on Jan. 15. He had been newly appointed in what appeared an attempt to rein growing Chinese influence.

Ngendandumwe was the second chief of government to be gunned down within four years. In October 1961, Premier Prince Louis Rwagasore, son of the king, was slain and three men were sentenced to death for the killing.

He Last Saw Sailor Alive Under A Vast Flamingo Sky

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN

Saigon (AP) — The last time I saw Ray Ellis he was sitting on the deck of his RAG (river assault group) boat deep in the mangrove swamps and talking earnestly about college kids tearing up their draft cards and picketing the Army terminals.

Dawn was just breaking over the Mekong Delta, and Vietnamese infantry troops were piling off the little steel river boats and hacking their way into the swamps.

It was one of those exquisite delta dawns, with a vast flamingo sky swallowing up the morning star and luminous white clouds already puffing up into thunderheads far out over the South China Sea. Ray loved the beauty of it all as much as he hated the horror of war.

If Only They Could Come

"If only these kids could come out to Viet Nam and see for themselves what it's all about," he was saying in the quiet, patient way he had of making a point, without rancor, without argument.

"If they could see how nothing moves on these rivers once the sun goes down because of the communists, and what it means for a peasant to give half his rice crop to a roving VC tax collector, and what calculated terror and murder can do to disrupt any semblance of government control in even the humblest fishing hamlet. If they could just spend a few hours on my boat talking to these Vietnamese sailors they might learn why these people still go on fighting after 20 years of it."

But, no, that wasn't the last time I saw Ray Ellis.

I saw him once again as his coffin passed through Tan Son Nhut Airport in Saigon on its way to his home in Cape May Court House, N.J.

The delta that Ray Ellis had loved so much, the lovely, lethal delta, had exploded all around him.

The recommendation for a posthumous Silver Star, now before the President of the United States, tells how Lt. Ray Ellis, U.S. Navy Reserve, gave his life to save the Vietnamese navy boat and the Vietnamese sailors he had come to aid.

It tells how at 5:55 one sunlit afternoon RAG Unit 27 was caught in an ambush in a narrow bend of a stream, and hit from both sides by mortars, recoilless rifles and .50-caliber machine guns.

Tells How Ambush Happened

It tells how Ellis made his way across the deck from the pilot house to the radio through that curtain of fire to call for an air strike, made his way back again to take command of the ship when the entire pilot house was wiped out, and was venturing across the deck once more to help a wounded Vietnamese sailor when a .50-caliber machine gun ripped into his hip, cut in two the hunting knife hanging on his belt and drove the shards into his body so that he died almost before the cry escaped his lips.

Two boats were sunk that day, and two more put out of commission. In addition to Ellis, the only American on the operation, 44 Vietnamese soldiers and 13 Vietnamese sailors gave their lives in that crooked bend of a narrow, muddy river. The Viet Cong dead numbered 83.

The citation will attest the bravery and competence of Lt. Ray Ellis, but it won't say anything about what he did for the Vietnamese people and what they thought of him.

The citation is no place to tell how Ellis came 40 miles by helicopter twice a week from his base in My Tho to teach English at the Vietnamese school in Saigon.

The Hours He Spent

The citation is no place to tell about the nights he spent dining in the homes of his Vietnamese sailors, and about how he organized them into a volleyball team and the hours he put in trying to learn their language.

No citation will tell about the flow-ers the people of My Tho heaped on his coffin, and the delegation they sent to Saigon for his final rites on this side of the world.

The citation attests that Ray Ellis was a member of the Naval Reserve. It doesn't say that he had been accepted into the regular Navy two days before he was killed but, because he was out on that delta operation, had not got around to signing the final papers.

Maybe people on the picket lines would have a hard time understanding why a former teacher from Gettysburg, Pa., would want to make a career out of the Navy, but if Ray was around he'd explain it to them. He had a teacher's patience with those who couldn't understand.

Ellis was buried Oct. 8 at Gettysburg National Cemetery, on the Gettysburg Battlefield. He was the first casualty of Viet Nam to be buried there.

More Nervy Cubans Come Across

Key West, Fla. (AP) — More nervy Cubans bobbed across the choppy Florida Straits in small craft Tuesday while efforts stepped up toward importing the would-be exiles wholesale.

A boat skipper, Miami Cuban Pedro Cifuentes, who made a refugee-pickup round trip said a three-mile line of 170 assorted craft lay at Camarioca, Fidel Castro's port of embarkation for exile in America. Havana Radio said one was a vessel capable of carrying 200 persons.

A Florida state senator asked the State Department to approve plans by which 400 Tampa families of Cuban descent would sponsor 800 relatives' departure from Red Cuba to the Tampa area.

State Sen. Tom Whitaker said State Department officials seemed to agree with him that priority should be given to Cubans whose relatives in this country will take care of them.

Whitaker said John Mullen, would not be permitted to enroll in Dade schools.

Hall said school doors would open to them only if federal funds are forthcoming to take the support load off county taxpayers.

deputy director of the Cuban refugee program, reported that arrangements may be agreed on this weekend for movement of refugees and order of priority.

Tampa's thriving Latin American community is largely descendants of Cubans who came around the turn of the century to build the Tampa cigar-making industry.

De Gaulle Opposition Grows To Five For December Race

Paris (AP) — Jean Lecanuet, a senator and member of the Catholic Popular Republican Movement (MRP), Tuesday announced his candidacy in the French presidential election Dec. 5.

Lecanuet is the fifth announced candidate for the post. President Charles de Gaulle has not yet said whether he will be a candidate.

Lecanuet, 45, said he would be a candidate of the center and that he was resigning as MRP president so he could seek multiparty support.

The other announced candidates are Deputy Francois Mitterrand, supported by Socialists and Communists, Sen. Pierre Marclay, lawyer Jean-Louis Tixier-Vignancour and Paul Antier, a former agriculture minister.

Truth Exceeds Fiction

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

They say that truth is stranger than fiction and such often seems to be the case. Not only is it more strange, but it can be equally fascinating. New Yorkers are finding this out as they watch the unfolding of a highly unusual courtroom scene in their city. The sophisticated easterners have in their city Prince Felix Youssouppoff and his wife, Princess Irina, now residents of Paris.

The couple are plaintiffs in a $1.5 million suit against the Columbia Broadcasting System. The suit is based on an alleged invasion of privacy, as opposed to libel, in the television production, "If I Should Die," shown in the summer of 1963. The matter of personal privacy itself is a legal question with many unanswered parts and the suit, therefore, is of unusual interest on that point alone. Public interest is heightened all the more by the presence of the prince and princess, former members of the Russian aristocracy prior to the Bolshevik revolution which led to communism.

The couple reportedly had a fortune of some $350 million prior to World War I. Much of this fortune, apparently never gotten out of Russia, eventually fell into the hands of the revolutionary Soviet government and the state of wealth of the prince and princess as of this time remains unreported.

All of that would be enough to whet the appetite of even the most cosmopolitan people, but that is not all. While many people may not remember Prince Felix Youssouppoff or Princess Irina, they will recall the name of Rasputin. They will not remember him by his given name of Grigori Novikh, an obscure product of Siberia, but they will recall him as a power during the rule of Russian Czar Nicholas II and Czarina Alexandra Feodorovna.

The prince was one of a foursome of aristocrats who finally saw to the elimination of the notorious Rasputin. Princess Irina won, in 1934 in London, a $125,000 award in a suit against Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer as a result of the studio's portrayal of her in the film, "Rasputin, the Mad Monk." The New York Times quotes from the 1934 court findings as follows: "It is difficult to imagine a worse libel upon a woman who is happily married and upon whose virtue nobody has cast a slur than to say she has been seduced by a villain such as Rasputin." Part of the popular version of the assassination of Rasputin has it that the princess served to help lure Rasputin to his death.

Rasputin was invited by the prince and three cohorts to dinner one evening. During the evening, he was fed poisoned cake and wine, which failed to accomplish the desired results. Then, he was shot and beaten and his body finally thrown into an ice-clogged river. The position of the prince is that the act was one of national honor and defense of his nation, much of the Russian aristocracy feeling at the time that the influence of Rasputin at court was seriously undermining the power of the czar and czarina and, thus, the entire ruling class. History would seem to lend some credence to the prince's position since the Bolsheviks did take over shortly after Rasputin was killed in 1916.

Of course, other events in the early part of the 20th and latter 19th Centuries had their own part to play in the overthrow of the czars. Not Rasputin, but a much deprived state of life for the citizenry was the key to the Russian revolution and the cause of so much of the world's difficulty today. Deprivation cannot be calculated to produce enlightenment but it is highly reliable as a fuse for drastic change.

Rasputin was probably more of a symbol than a primary cause of things. His notoriety grew from his adherence to a religious cult based on repentance as the means of salvation. He carried things a step further, however, and advocated sinning in order to provide the basis for repentance and, thereby, the means for eternal salvation.

The net result of this was a wave of immorality that swept the court of Nicholas II and in the middle of which stood Rasputin. With self-assumed holy powers, Rasputin also claimed to have cured Alexis, the young son of the ruling Russian czar and czarina. Not only did Rasputin challenge the moral foundations of the nation, but he became an influence in political life, particularly in the appointment of men whose public behavior frequently led to their indictment. It is not difficult to see how such a period of history as this would find its way into popular channels of entertainment.

While the prince denies nothing in connection with the assassination of Rasputin, even claiming that he himself struck the fatal blow with a heavy stick, he maintains that the TV production of the affair is a commercial play upon sex and, therefore, an invasion of his personal privacy. It will be a long time before any more unusual case than this comes along.

Influence Of Rasputin

Base Job Corps Center

The University of Nebraska and Northern Natural Gas Co. of Omaha are to be commended for their leadership in submission to the federal government of a plan for establishment of a job corps training center at the Lincoln Air Force Base. Unfortunately, there are other complicating issues.

The job corps center is not what everyone would propose for the base. The ideal thing would be total industrial development of the area since this would produce the biggest payroll and provide Lincoln with the greatest stimulant to its economy. But to want industry and to get it are two different things, as any city in America will testify.

Too, the job corps would take such a large part of the base as to rule out some of the other uses that could be made of the area. Exactly what would be left at the base and what could be done with it after establishment of a job corps remains to be determined. The proposed center would take about half of the heart of the current base area.

Such a center would be the source of employment that would exceed 1,000 jobs. It would also place in Lincoln 2,000 trainees receiving a small allowance of $30 a month plus room and board. All of this, however, is not of the highest order on the economic scale.

Also, the center could provide a base for future industrial growth by supplying trained manpower and could be a substantial social contribution to the state. On the contrary, such a use would not be permanent and would bring into the community possible social problems. The university and Northern Natural have given us a leadership that is highly laudable but a plan that will be received with reservations in many quarters.

Worthy Of Honor

National Newspaper Carrier Boy day came and went with no interruption of carrier service, no formal programs and no parades.

But certain facts remain. Carrier boys, and there are thousands of them in this land, are an important and integral part of our system of communications. And they do their job well.

These teen and sub-teen boys work for pay and they earn it. They get up in the gray of dawn, whatever the weather. They are dependable. They lay your paper at your door, every day in the week. They learn to be business men. They magnify responsibility and they perform their job so quietly and well that good service ensues. It is the development of these characteristics that guarantee a useful life, one of good citizenship and stability.

Great Industrial Growth

For years Iowa has been a large feeder of Nebraska range cattle. Its buyers are always evident in the Nebraska auction markets. The Des Moines Register runs many pages of ads to guide its feeders to the Nebraska auctions.

But now Iowa is worried. Last year it ranked first in the nation, feeding out 3 million head. But Nebraska which produces most of the cattle is rapidly growing as a feeder state. Last year it fed out 2.6 million head. It is challenging Iowa for the leadership. Between 1960 and 1964 Nebraska increased its fed cattle output by 1 million head. Iowa has gained but 400,000 head. At the present rate of relative growth Nebraska will pass Iowa and go into first place in the nation in another two years.

Iowa's analysis of this? Nebraska is closer to the supply of range cattle. It is a good corn state and raises the right kind of roughage. Central and western Nebraska has the better feeding climate, more sunshine, less rain. Iowa is full of 75 head feeders. Nebraska operates more largely, with many 1,000 head feeders, and mechanization and automation has gone far here. Nebraska has one commercial feed lot at Minatare which turns out 75,000 fed cattle and is building more like it.

This fabulous growth in the cattle industry which in four years has increased Nebraska's income by something like $300 million a year seems least known and felt in Nebraska as is likewise the fact that the growth is here to stay on an increasing pattern.

The story illustrates the fact that there is a farm problem within the farm problem, not the problem of price and surplus, but of the competition between areas. It tells why technological improvement is necessary because the most advanced areas are going to be the ultimate winners.

House Slow To Investigate Klans

WASHINGTON — One amazing aspect of the Ku Klux Klan is that it has escaped investigation by the House Un-American Activities Committee until this week.

Nothing could be more un-American than spreading racial and religious bigotry, flogging and murdering fellow Americans, and terrorizing women and children by night. Yet the House Un-American Activities Committee, which has probed almost everything ranging from a Quaker schoolteacher at Newton Square Pa., to the Knights of the White Camellia, has shied away from probing the Klan until this week.

The FBI has done a competent job and kept the Klan under its watchful eye. It helped to break up an assassination plot by the "secret six" in 1964 when the vice mayor of Atlanta, Sam Massell, and Morris Abram, Jewish attorney in Atlanta, were the object of a secret six plot.

Again early in 1965 a plot was hatched in Georgia for the assassination of Martin Luther King. The FBI was tipped off and the plot was frustrated.

Still the Un-American Activities Committee failed to investigate. It has long been dominated by Southern congressmen. However, it was finally a Southerner, liberal Charles Welfert of Georgia, who as a member of the committee repeatedly demanded an investigation, which finally tipped the balance in favor of the probe which started this week.

Chairman of the committee is Ed Willis of Louisiana, where the Klan has long dominated Bogalusa. Belatedly Willis appears to be doing a competent job of investigation.

Continuing the roll call of the Klans, the chief rival of the United Klans of America, Inc., is the National Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Inc., important chiefly because it is headed by James R. Venable, long-time Atlanta attorney for various Klan interests.

Significantly, he has also acted as attorney for the Black Muslims.

This man, so versatile that he can represent both the white-hating Muslims and the black-hating Klansmen, lives in the shadow of the Klan shrine at Stone Mountain, Ga. He is plump, has gray hair, blue eyes and a ruddy complexion and is given to violent talk. He has claimed that the time has come to hang a few people, both white and black, to let the nation know that the Ku Klux Klan means business.

Venable has been able to affiliate the Federated Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Inc., whose grand dragon is William Hugh Morris of Buchanan, Ga.; the U.S. Klans; Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Inc., whose grand dragon is H. L. Jones of Jonesboro, Ga., and the association of Georgia Klans.

Next Congress One To Make Corrections

WASHINGTON — In a thoughtful speech to the final Democratic caucus of the session of Congress, Majority Leader Mike Mansfield issued a warning to President Johnson and a summons to the Senate.

The warning, in brief, was that the scope of achievements in the last eight or nine months makes any repetition of significant legislation next year not only unlikely but, in Mansfield's judgment, undesirable.

The summons called on every committee of the Senate next year to assume the task of oversight of the many new federal approaches to the nation's problems. Mansfield began it with the candid admission that the new legislation had "a number of gaps and any number of rough edges, overextensions and overlaps."

These shortcomings, he insisted, should be caught before they become solidified, by repetition, into the administrative practices of the departments and agencies. He said he would expect cooperation of the administration, but his emphasis was on the need for legislative initiative.

The extreme docility of Congress this year has been its most striking feature. Members grew old about White House pressure, badly drafted programs and rising expenditures but took little action to translate their criticism into roadblocks.

Mansfield is reminding them in a nice way that they did enact the legislation, knowing its faults, and that they have the power to apply remedies to the troubles that are now bound to show up. The amount of oversight exercised by Congress this year has been minimal.

In the prevailing atmosphere of silence and conformity, senators criticized one of their most distinguished colleagues for expressing his dissent from the policy of the United States in the Dominican Republic crisis. It is the job of Chairman J. William Fulbright and members of the Committee on Foreign Relations to ascertain and weigh what goes on in that field.

His committee held hearings, but it became apparent to the chairman that as a committee, it was not ready to voice public doubts. His doubts were deeply felt and he spoke them. Other senators did not stop at disagreement with him; they questioned his right to speak.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, author of a famous declaration of conscience in the McCarthy era, brooded on this state of affairs and then spoke her mind for the record. She defended Fulbright's right to express his dissent and said she admired him for refusing to become "a mental mute" for fear of majority criticism.

The Maine Republican added her own decided disagreement with what Fulbright said and praised the President for acting "courageously, wisely and prudently." Copyright, 1965, By U.F. Syndicate, Inc.

The Committed Generation

WASHINGTON — A young American was killed in Laos the other day and the choice he had made of what he wanted to do with his life says a lot for his generation and its commitment to the stern realities of the age.

Michael Deuel served in the Pacific as a Marine officer. When he was discharged in 1962 he looked for a way to get back to Southeast Asia. He was fascinated by the place and the people.

It was as an adviser on refugees for the Agency for International Development that he returned. He worked in primitive villages under difficult and often frustrating circumstances. The helicopter crash that ended his life at the age of 28 was the kind of senseless accident that mocked the innumerable hazards he had lived through. His headquarters in Pakse in the southernmost part of Laos, where he supervised a refugee village of several thousand mountain tribesmen, was in dangerous territory infiltrated by Viet Minh and Pa net Lao.

While he believed in what he was doing, Deuel was no Galahad. He wanted to be where the action was, where things were happening. One of his family's vivid memories is of his saying with passion:

"I tell you one thing and that is I don't intend to be bored in my life."

All around the world thousands — hundreds of thousands really — of Mike Deuel's generation are where the action is. They are working and living in squalid villages in India, on the slopes of the Andes in Colombia and Peru, in remote outposts beyond the farthest edge of "civilization." These are not only the Peace Corps volunteers but young people who have enrolled in many private organizations such as Action in Latin America.

They are committed to an extent that this country has rarely seen in a younger generation. So are the young people committed to have gone to the South to help in the civil rights movement, to teach in Negro schools where the level of education is appallingly low, to help make up for a century of neglect and injustice. They, too, have gone where the action is and, as murderous attacks in Alabama and Mississippi have made abundantly clear, they face hazards as real as those in Southeast Asia.

While their commitment must seem self-defeating the students demonstrating against the war in Viet Nam have taken a stand and put their future on the line in an atmosphere of growing emotionalism. It would be remarkable if communists or crypto-communists had not tried to use the student movement for their own ends. To blanket the whole movement, which undoubtedly includes thousands of deeply convinced young people, as communist-inspired will give the extreme left far more credit than it deserves and consequently advance the cause of communism.

In contrast to the army of the committed—their commitment taking one form or another—are the beatniks, the nihilists who reject everything. Their nihilism is conspicuous because of the badge of the long hair, the dirty blue jeans, the raffish behavior. Again allowing for the inevitable leftist effort to discredit the "ed States and create a false impression of wholesale resistance, probably most of the avowed draft dodgers are to be found in this category.

To this observer it seems obvious that they are a small minority. They have taken out their boredom and their rejection of the terms of American life in a long whine that is a distorted echo of the "Lost Generation" of the 1920s.

For the Mike Deuels—the young men and women who have gone out where the action is—there are challenging unfinished tasks at home and in every corner of the globe. When the war in Southeast Asia is finally ended, a ravaged country must be put together again and a people who have endured so much given a chance for a new life. Deuel was working in a small corner of that large undertaking. In broad perspective it can be seen in President Johnson's Mekong Delta project and in the Asia Development Bank.

A generation ago to have volunteered to teach in a primitive Colombian village or to work with backward peasants in Nepal would have seemed, to say the least, eccentric. A few of the "lost generation" sat it out as expatriates in Paris. But today the choices are so numerous for the committed that it is hard to understand even a small minority rejecting any commitment whatsoever.

Labor's Benefits

Hastings, Neb.

Labor leaders and organized labor in general should not be dismayed by the refusal of the 89th Congress to abolish the right to work law. Rather, they should take pride in the work of organized labor in securing higher labor standards, including higher rates of pay for union members as compared to the lower pay for non-union workers.

Organized labor would be justified in ridiculing workers who accept jobs in union shops and refuse to join the union that secured the higher rate of pay for the workers.

The principles upon which organized labor is built are fully as sound and as eternal as the principles upon which is based any organization whose purpose is to benefit mankind. Were it not for organized labor in Nebraska, the average wage would be far less than one dollar per hour and sweatshops would prevail throughout America.

Incidentally, the Nebraska members of the 89th Congress who say that the states have taken the responsibility of passing their own labor laws and Congress should not interfere with those laws put themselves in a rather awkward position, because they would not dare to say that the states have taken the responsibility for supporting their public schools and that Congress should not interfere with the states' responsibility for operating their schools as the states see fit. If Congress followed through on this thought, it would not appropriate any federal funds for the support of public instruction.

Taxes And Teams

Lincoln, Neb.

A letter appeared in the October 15 issue of The Star that has me very puzzled. Perhaps someone else who might have read it could explain it to me.

I fail to see the connection between a winning football team and a sales or income tax. That seems like adding chickens and pigs together and coming up with so many cows. If the majority of people in Nebraska feel the same way, I fail to see any help for Nebraska's deplorable tax situation.

Is Mr. Bartunek a homeowner? Does he pay any real estate taxes? If so, has he received his tax bill that is due this year? It's a little higher than last year. What about next year? It won't be any lower. I wouldn't take any bets that it will even remain the same as this year.

Then the letter comes from the bank that holds your mortgage. "Your payments must be increased to cover the cost of this year's increase." Perhaps you can turn it over to your winning football team. They might pay the difference. If you don't own your home, perhaps your landlord will be kind enough not to raise your rent, not this year, anyway.

But wait until the next increase comes along. If a sales tax will relieve the homeowner's burden a little, I'm for it. As long as our lawmakers keep in mind that we're not trying to pay off the national debt, a sales tax can be kept within a reasonable amount and not on items of necessity. How many large items does the average man buy in a year that a sales tax would put him in the poor house? I feel that if you can afford a new car every year, the tax on it won't break you, either.

From where is the money going to come to pay for the new schools that will have to be built to educate your children and their children, the roads you drive on, the sidewalks you use, the public buildings, etc?

Now, let's look at that winning football team. Where do the majority of the players come from? Nebraska? Or were they canvassed from other states? Even states that have sales and income taxes? After they graduate, are they going to stay here in Nebraska, buy homes and help pay for some of the things Nebraska so badly needs? All those whom I have asked are going back East or West or wherever they came from. If Nebraska has only a winning team to offer future generations, I feel sorry for the state.

I came from a state that has both an income tax and a sales tax. Believe me, if our family could see its way clear to move back, we'd go back and gladly pay twice the taxes. You see, they don't have a winning football team but they have so much more to offer our children—made possible through these taxes.

Other Side

Hickman, Neb.

The letter on evolution in the October 14 Star reminded me of the following poem, sent from California. I do not know the original author. It is called "Evolution: The Monkey's Side."

Three monkeys sat in a coconut tree
Said one to the others, "Now listen, you two,
There's a certain rumor that can't be true.

"That man descended from our noble race—
The very idea! It's a real disgrace.
"No monkey ever deserted his wife,
Starved her baby and ruined her life.

"And you have yet to find a mother monkey
Who'll leave her baby with others to bunk.
"Or pass them on from one to another
Till they hardly know who is their mother.

"And another thing you will never see—
A monkey build a fence round a coconut tree.
"And let the coconuts go to waste
Forbidden all other monkeys a taste.

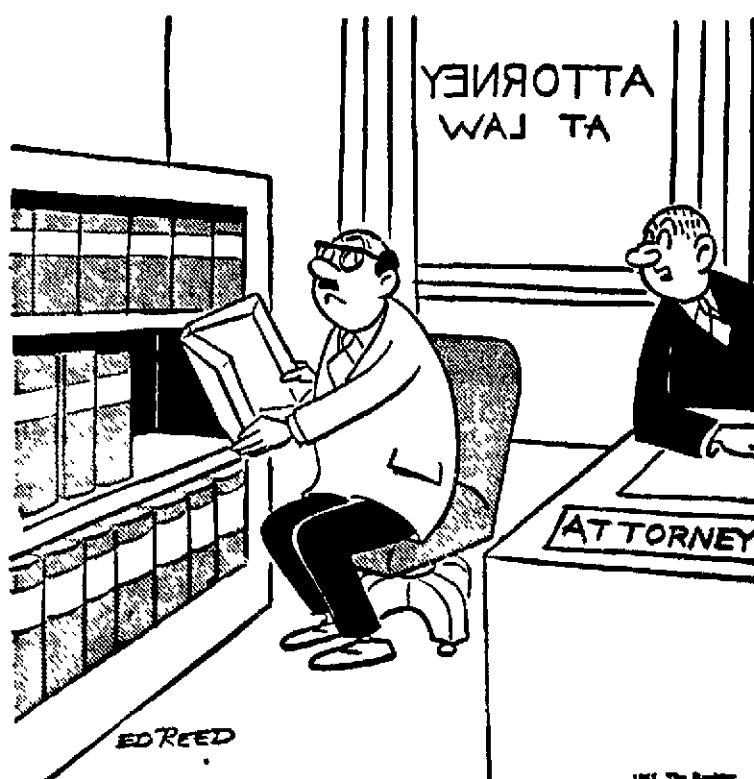

"Why, if I put a fence around this tree,
Starvation would force you to steal from me.
"Here's another thing a monkey won't do:
Go out at night and get on a stew."

"Or use a gun or club or knife
To take some other monkey's life.
"Yes, man descended, the ornery cuss.
But, brother, he didn't descend from us!"

Mud Road To Isolate 4 Families?

Four farm families served by four and one-half miles of road connecting Hickman with Wagon Train Lake are apparently the victims of circumstances and may be "in mud" for the winter.

County Commissioner Ralph Harlan brought the matter to the attention of the County Board Tuesday noting that the road was to have been hard-surfaced this fall, but that the contractor has been given a time extension until next spring for completing the project and the farmers are "sitting in mud," where there previously was gravel.

According to Deputy County Engineer Walter Hoppe, regrading the road for temporary use this winter would cost about $10,000 and the county doesn't have any funds for such purpose.

Asked Extension

He said the county completed grading the road about Aug. 1; and the contractor, because of rainy weather and other circumstances, had requested an extension of time for completion of the project.

The State Department of Roads extended the completion time to 55 working days after May 1, 1966. For this reason, the county doesn't feel it is its responsibility to gravel the road, and the state's contention is that it is a county problem since it has the responsibility of maintaining the road.

According to Willard Barbee of the State Game Commission, the Game Commission doesn't have any responsibility in the matter except that the "road leads to the area we administer."

Benefitting

He pointed out that the county is benefitting from the special Recreational Access Road funds in that it is getting more blacktopping and access road mileage out of the funds.

The additional 50 cents charged for license plates and 30% of the added two-cent tax per package of cigarettes which went into effect this year is used for access roads to recreation areas.

Rebel Snipers, Troops Trade Shots

Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic (AP) — Rebel snipers and Dominican troops exchanged fire in the heart of this city Tuesday in a continuation of the trouble manifest by the assassination Saturday of a conservative politician. At least three persons were killed and seven wounded.

Among the wounded was Roberto Mitchell Daniel, 30, a

Dominican cameraman working for the American Broadcasting Co. Angel Severo Cabral, who served as interior minister of the junta which ousted President Juan D. Bosch in 1963, was shot to death Saturday when he entered the formerly rebel-held sector to remove furniture from his home there. His wife and their daughter, Ada, 26, were wounded.

Monday Jose Ramirez, 34, secretary-general of a dock workers organization, was killed and three dock workers were wounded in a battle between his own and a rival longshore group.

A troop commander said rebels started the new action Tuesday, sniping at his men. President Hector Garcia Godoy went into an emergency session with his cabinet at noon. He quickly decreed the shutdown of all radio stations in the city except the government outlet and another operated by the Organization of American States.

Comet To Be Visible Today As Bright Light Near Sun

New York (UPI) — Sharp-eyed North Americans willing to risk a strained neck may be able to pick out the Ikeya-Seki Comet Wednesday and Thursday as it hurtles toward a fiery meeting with the sun.

Astronomer Kenneth Franklin of the Hayden Planetarium here said the comet will be visible over North America as a bright light near the sun during daylight hours Wednesday. But the precise time could not be determined, he added.

"Comets are notoriously unpredictable," Franklin said. "And with this one, it's like trying to watch a horse race from a merry-go-round."

The comet, hopefully, Franklin said, will be visible again sometime around midnight Thursday. It will appear in the northern sky moving to the east.

Franklin said the comet would become visible as it moves closer to the sun and begins reflecting the sun's light and generating light of its own.

The astronomer warned against using binoculars to watch the comet, described by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration as promising the greatest sky spectacular of its kind in the lifetime of those who will see it.

Franklin said the light from the comet has a high intensity and the use of a magnifying lens would concentrate its energy against the eye and could cause damage.

Franklin School Bond Issue OKd

Franklin — Voters in school district R-6 at Franklin Tuesday approved a $446,000 bond issue for construction of a new K-6 elementary school building.

The vote was 516 in favor to 194 opposed, representing 72.6% approval compared to the 55% needed. Nine absentee ballots yet to be counted cannot change the outcome.

The new elementary building will include seven classrooms, office, library, kitchen, gymnasium, and multipurpose room. Superintendent Ross B. Barnham expressed hope that junior and senior high buildings will also be approved. The buildings would complete a proposed triangular complex.

It was the first time the issue had been put to a vote.

4 College Girls, Trucker Escape Injury In Crash

Four Doane College girls and a Wisner truck driver escaped injury Tuesday evening when the car in which the girls were riding collided with a truck at Crete corner 10 miles south of Lincoln.

The State Safety Patrol said the mishap occurred as Stephanie Young, 18, Denver, driver of the car, turned north from Neb. 33 on to U.S. 77.

One of the girls in the car said truck driver Carl L. Hurst, Wisner, averted a more serious crash by turning his truck into the ditch.

The truck, loaded with cattle, jackknifed and slid up an embankment. Others in the car were Marleen Rehson, 18, St. Louis, Mo.; Judy Geiger, 19, Fairmont, and Dorothy Stock, 18, Papillion.

CANADA REJECTS RED TREATY BANNING MORE NUCLEAR ARMS

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — Canada rejected Tuesday a Soviet-proposed treaty to halt the spread of nuclear weapons, saying it was intended to weaken the defenses of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Gen. E. L. M. Burns, Canada's chief disarmament negotiator, told the U.N. General Assembly's main political committee that in its present form, the provision in the Soviet draft affecting NATO "does not constitute a suitable basis for negotiation." Canada is a "NATO Country."

The United States and the Soviet Union have submitted proposed treaties for preventing the spread of nuclear weapons to nations not now possessing them.

Burns said both treaties were intended to prevent any new nation from emerging as a new independent nuclear power, but that the provisions in the Soviet treaty appear designed to prohibit certain defensive arrangements which now exist within the North Atlantic Alliance.

He said that under these arrangements certain nuclear weapon delivery vehicles of limited range in the hands of allies of the United States could be used to deliver nuclear weapons in order to repel aggression, but that the United States would retain custody over them.

If these arrangements were abolished, Burns added, "it would be of one-sided advantage to the Soviet Union and its allies."

Burns said all disarmament negotiations should continue in Geneva, no matter what decision is taken on the convening of a world disarmament conference.

He made it clear that Canada believes Communist China should be invited to a world conference, but that the agenda should be worked out carefully in advance.

Income Tax Virtually Assured Spot On Ballot

The secretary of state's office reported Tuesday one of two constitutional requirements has been met to place the controversial state income tax before the voters in 1966.

Allan Beermann, administrative assistant to Secretary of State Frank Marsh, disclosed that 40 counties have now qualified under the five per cent constitutional provision to place the measure on the ballot.

The constitution requires that referendum petition signatures total five per cent of the votes cast in the last gubernatorial election in a minimum of 38 counties to force a referendum vote on the tax.

Beermann said the passing of the 38-county test virtually assured the tax a spot on the November, 1966, ballot.

"We're not certifying anything officially yet," Beermann said. "There's still some rechecking and retabulating to do. However, there's apparently enough signatures to put the question on the ballot."

Beermann reported that petitions from 53 of the 85 counties which submitted signatures had been checked through Tuesday, and a total of 20,222 signatures had been verified, with nearly 29,000 signatures required.

However, petitions still to be checked included those from Douglas and Lancaster Counties which submitted 45,743 and 3,346 signatures respectively.

Beermann said he hoped petitions from all counties except Douglas and Lancaster would be checked by Friday.

If the number of signatures reaches 10% of the gubernatorial votes, or 57,809, the petition drive would have the effect on an injunctive action.

The tax, enacted by the 1965 Legislature through passage of LB797, is not scheduled to take effect until Jan. 1, 1967, and an injunction would prevent state officials from making preparations for implementation of the tax until after the 1966 election.

Symphony's 40th Year Opens On Exciting Note

By RUTH ARDIS

An aura of excitement and enthusiasm permeated the first concert of the 1965-66 season of the Lincoln Symphony Orchestra Tuesday.

Indeed, it was quite a special occasion, celebrating the 40th anniversary of the Symphony Orchestra and the 20th year in which Leo Kopp has served as conductor. Kopp was given a standing ovation at intermission upon being presented with a special copy of the history of the symphony by Guild President Mrs. Richard Duxbury.

The orchestra was in glorious form at this opening concert of the season, opening with the delightfully rhythmic "Overture to Colas Breugnot" by Kabalevsky.

contemporary tendencies.

The orchestration is superb, giving each section of the orchestra a chance to display its virtuosity. The mounting crescendo and dramatic rhythmic insistence of the brasses brought the work to a thrilling climax which literally brought down the house.

Leo Hill, president of the Lincoln Symphony Orchestra Association, expressed pride over the achievements of the orchestra during the past forty years and announced plans for expansion of the symphony to include summer "pop" concerts and the formation of a permanent Lincoln Symphony Chorus this year.

Beermann said 17 counties had qualified under the 10% provision through Tuesday. They were Lincoln, Knox, Adams, Box Butte, Cass, Cherry, Colfax, Dawes, Dodge, Dundy, Garden, Hooker, Jefferson, Butler, Brown, Burt and Madison.

He identified the 40 counties passing the five per cent test as Loup, Lincoln, Knox, Adams, Boone, Box Butte, Brown, Buffalo, Burt, Butler, Cass, Cherry, Colfax, Cuming, Custer, Dakota, Dawes, Dawson, Dixon, Dodge, Dundy, Fillmore, Franklin, Furnas, Gage, Garden, Garfield, Gosper, Hall, Harlan, Hitchcock, Holt, Hooker, Howard, Jefferson, Johnson, Keith, Keya Paha, Madison and Merrick.

Beermann estimated more than 85,000 signatures have been filed with some petitions continuing to "trickle in."

Top Korean 4-Her, Ex-Colonel Meet

By LUCILLE HUTCHINSON
Star Staff Writer

The top 4-H youth in Korea met the grandfather of 4-H clubs in South Korea Tuesday night here in Lincoln.

Duck Yong Kang, living with farm families in various sections of the U.S. as a part of the International Farm Youth Exchange Program sponsored by the National 4-H Club Foundation, received a warm handshake from the former governor of Seoul, retired Col. Charles A. Anderson. The banter of 4-H reminiscences began immediately.

The two had not met before, although Anderson, as the leader and advisor of 4-H in Korea, had shared in Kang's selection for the exchange.

Returned in January

Anderson, for 20 years a dentist in Beatrice, and now retired from his Korean 4-H responsibilities, came back to the U.S. in January to live and "keep active in 4-H in Nebraska."

Kang owns seven acres of land near Kyongsang Namdo in the central province of Qyun Ggi. He raises rice, sweet potatoes, vegetables and wheat to feed family and sells "what's left over."

Sporting new cowboy boots he received during the celebration of his 26th birthday while staying with the Dale

Oatman family of Ainsworth, Kang revealed his enjoyment of western movies and all the "trimmings."

Comparing American farms with those in Korea, the 4-H youth marveled at the expanses of land which individuals own and the exclusive use of machinery. Animals—both cows and horses—provide Koreans with much of their tractor power, he said.

Kang returns shortly to South Korea where he will resume his studies at the Yung Man Christian Vocational School and his activities with the church and mission.

Anderson was in Lincoln to address the University of Nebraska Ag College 4-H Club Tuesday night, relating his experiences as 4-H leader in Korea.

United Appeal Campaign At 34.7%

Lincoln's Community Chest-Red Cross United Appeal reached 34.7% Tuesday, the beginning of the second campaign report week. The day's reports totaled $66,890, bringing the over-all total to $286,966.

Herb Hopkins' unit firms division reported a $26,392.64 total, which is 24.6% of its $450,000 goal. To date, unit firms division has turned in pledges and cash amounting to $110,897. First Nebraska Securities Inc. led the day's reports for percentage of increase over last year with a gift of $2,878, a 24.4% increase.

Bankers Life Nebraska turned in $16,000, Cushman Motors, $6,391; and Latsch Bros., $1,335.

The advance gifts division, under John Olsson, added $16,868, to bring its total to $62,387, or 43% of their $180,500 goal.

Mrs. A. B. Gorman announced that the women's division is at the 65% mark with contributions to date totaling $9,481. The women's division, which has a $14,500 goal, solicits on a prospect assignment basis those who do not have an opportunity to contribute through a place of employment.

Business and government, division solicitors, led by Warren Jennings, raised their total to 48.9%, with cash or pledges totaling $21,383.

High Point

Dvorak's "D Minor Symphony," which is often bypassed in favor of the composer's "New World" Symphony, was the high point of the concert. The depth of the string section, particularly in the lower voices, was especially noticeable in the lush dark harmonies in the first and last movements.

The work itself is extraordinarily rich in harmonic and melodic content and is occasionally Brahmsian in style. The rhythmic counter-melodies and rich interweaving of the Czech themes in the third movement were nicely balanced between sections of the orchestra.

Debussy's "Nuages and Fetes" are light in texture and shot through with vivid tone colors, each of which came through deftly.

Climax

The climax of the concert came with the playing of "Pines of Rome" by Respighi. This tone poem depicts musically the sights and sounds of Rome, while balancing classical elements in music with

Denver, Rio Grande Railroad Officials Ask City Support

Representatives of the Denver-based Denver and Rio Grande Railroad sought support among City Council members Tuesday for the Rio Grande's position in current proposals to merge the Union Pacific and Rock Island railroads.

The Rio Grande has asked the Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) to reject the merger unless lines between Denver and Missouri River points are sold to Rio Grande.

Unless the Rock Island segment is sold to Rio Grande, the middle belt of the United States west of Omaha will have only one transcontinental line, the council was told at a breakfast meeting.

Photo Team

Alexis McKinney, Rio Grande public relations director, also reported that the railroad had a team in Lincoln several weeks ago to photograph and study the Rock Island tracks which cut across town.

Plans to keep mid-town Rock Island traffic to a minimum if the line segment is acquired by Rio Grande are under study, he said.

Council members did not discuss the Rio Grande proposal after the meeting, but indicated that a decision would be made soon whether to intervene in support of Rio Grande's position in the disputed merger.

Hearing Set in March

The Union Pacific-Rock Island merger hearing starts in March before the ICC.

The Union Pacific position has previously been presented to the council.

Morrison Lauds Preliminary Action Approving Research Center Funds

Gov. Frank Morrison Tuesday praised preliminary congressional action approving $500,000 for the new live-stock research center at the Hastings Naval Ammunition depot near Clay Center.

This figure was included by Senate and House conferees in the agricultural appropriation bill. It must be given final approval by the full House and Senate.

Gov. Frank Morrison said the approval was "an extremely significant step in the development of Nebraska's economy."

He's In Germany

Morrison's statement was released by his Statehouse office. He is heading a trade mission in Germany.

He said the new center, estimated as a $5.2 million development when completed, will enable the U.S. Department of Agriculture to consolidate research activities and lease Fort Robinson for "its full recreational potential."

Morrison said the initial $500,000 would be for final plans and specifications for the center and some immediate

Morrison Says Trade Mission Successful

Gov. Frank Morrison reported Tuesday from Hamburg, Germany, that the nine-member Nebraska trade mission "has been extremely successful so far."

Morrison conferred by transatlantic telephone with his administrative assistant, Gene Budig, and with Lt. Gov. Phil Sorensen.

Budig said Morrison reported the mission "is making important industrial contacts" and its reception has been beyond expectations."

Budig also released a statement by the Nebraska Resources Division that no state funds are involved in the three-week trade mission headed by Gov. Morrison.

Cost of mission, including the governor's expenses, is being shared by the eight Nebraska businessmen on the European trip. It was reported as $16,072.

Eiting Not In Line For Labor Post

Speculation that B. G. H. Eiting might be appointed head of the State Employment Division was squelched Tuesday by Gov. Frank Morrison's office.

"Eiting hasn't even expressed interest in the job, as far as I know," said Administrative Assistant Gene Budig.

Eiting recently resigned, effective Nov. 1, as state motor vehicle director at the urging of Morrison, who said the implied consent law was being poorly administered by Eiting.

The labor post has been vacant since William E. Daugherty was named budget officer in the new administrative services department.

Midstate Funds Get Senate OK

Washington (UPI) — The Senate Tuesday approved legislation authorizing expenditure of $2 billion for 140 rivers and harbors projects in 40 states.

Includee were funds for the Nebraska Midstate project.

The bill, approved by voice vote, is a compromise worked out by House-Senate conferees last week. It still must be approved by the house.

new Federal Vocational Education Act this fiscal year, almost $200,000 under what was anticipated.

Furthermore, all of the money is tentatively committed, without any going to regionally formed trade schools on a 50-50 matching basis, he said.

State trade schools at Milford and Sidney will share in the money, but the bulk of the funds will go to established vocational programs in 150 school districts.

If there isn't enough money to go around, then federal funds will be pro-rated to the schools, Stanley said.

Should a new Central Nebraska Vocational School be formed at the Hastings Naval Ammunition Depot, as talked, it could qualify for some of the money on a pro-rata basis. The decision before the State Board of Education would involve the question of whether it wished to give established vocational programs less money so that a new one could be financed.

Stanley reviewed the situation for Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff. Carpenter said the Legislature had been under the impression that large amounts of federal funds would be available.

We make every effort to relieve families of the burden of details.

Onion Ring Plant Back To Grand Island

Grand Island (AP) — Delicious Foods Co., processor of frozen onion rings, is returning its operation to Grand Island from Hastings.

Bill Peterson, president of the firm, announced Tuesday that the company has purchased the Roberts Dairy Co. building in Grand Island and will move here between Christmas and New Year's.

Delicious Foods started in Grand Island in August, 1962, with three employees. It moved to Hastings two years ago, when the old Fairmont building in which it had been located was partially destroyed by fire.

It presently has 65 full-time and 10 parttime employees, and general manager Pete Kyros said that by next March or April it will employ 100 persons.

The company processes frozen onion rings for distribution in 35 states for institutional use only. In early 1966, it will start packing a bite-sized onion ring in 12-ounce package for retail distribution.

Budget Unit To Keep Tabs On State Operations

The chairman of the Legislature's Budget Committee served notice Tuesday the committee will keep close tabs on the operations of state government during the interim period prior to the 1967 legislative session.

State Sen. Richard Marvel of Hastings informed heads of state departments and agencies by letter that the committee will meet two days per month and hold numerous sessions with state officials.

He suggested that the committee also discuss programs and policy with the state officials during the interim period before the hectic "budget hearings season" when the session commences.

Body From River Omaha Junkman

Omaha (UPI) — Authorities here said Tuesday they have learned the identity of an elderly man whose body was found Sunday in the Missouri River.

The body was identified as that of Ben Versland, believed to have been about 75 years of age. He had lived for many years in a shack in a junk yard at 6th and Seward St., and his only means of livelihood was derived from gathering junk.

There were no signs of foul play, authorities said, and the cause of death was listed as drowning.

He had told acquaintances that he stowed away on a boat to the United States from his native Norway when he was 15 years of age. He came to Omaha and had lived here all his adult years.

What They're Reading

This morning we are introducing a new book, and just in case we haven't already made its acquaintance we'll tell you that it is neither a novel nor a weighty tome on the solution to world problems—It is a collection — of recipes.

For this particular book, which features Danish dishes and pointers in Danish dining, the Midwest may take a bow. The reflected glory also reaches as far as our own city because the author of the newest cookbook is Ingeborg Dahl Jensen of Clinton, Iowa, the sister-in-law of Mrs. John P. Miller of Lincoln.

Although Mrs. Jensen now claims Clinton, Iowa her home she is still anxious and proud to mention Denmark as her birthplace and adds, "I was trained in Danish ways from the time I was big enough to hold a wooden spoon."

We have yet to give you the name of this delightful cookbook which is "Wonderful, Wonderful Danish Cooking." Victor Borge offers an introduction to the book and insists, again and again that "You don't have to be Danish to love this book, you just have to enjoy good food."

Let's reverse our directions for a minute as we review this week's best-seller list. Two newcomers have been receiving considerable recognition and they are "Never Call Retreat" by Catton, and "Thomas" by Shelley Mydams. "Never Call Retreat" is the Centennial history of the Civil War. If you saw the movie, "Becket," then you might be interested in the second newcomer, "Thomas." "Thomas" is a story about the life, passion and miracles of Becket and the novel is a well written book by the famous author of another best-seller of a few years back, "The Open City."

VIP Schedules Visit

A visitor in Lincoln this weekend will be Mrs. C. Rodney Stoltz of Watertown, S.D., who no doubt will be better remembered by her many friends in the community and state as the former Virginia Cotton, Delta Zeta at Nebraska Wesleyan University.

Mrs. Stoltz, who will be the houseguest of her mother, Mrs. R. C. Cotton, must surely be one of the busiest alumnae of Wesleyan, which incidentally presented her with its Loyalty Award earlier this year.

As the wife of Dr. C. Rodney Stoltz of Watertown, who is a graduate of the University of Nebraska College of Medicine and a past president of the South Dakota State Medical Association, Mrs. Stoltz not only is active in the South Dakota Medical Auxiliary, but also has served as national president of the American Medical Association Women's Auxiliary.

As a national president, Mrs. Stoltz was required to travel a great deal—"I was out two or three weeks at a time, home for a few days, then gone again" — however, she was never too busy to devote time to her family, which includes a son, Roger, a student at Carleton College, Northfield, Minn., and a daughter, Gail, a high school senior.

Honored as South Dakota's Mother of the Year last spring, Mrs. Stoltz is interested in the Watertown "Town Players," of which she is a charter member (she majored in speech and dramatics at Wesleyan), a member and past president of the Watertown Board of Education, member of the Watertown Chorus, of PEO, the General Federation of Women's Clubs and serves on the advisory council for the Governor's Lay Conference on education.

Mrs. Stoltz, who is a native of Table Rock, also has been active in the Methodist Church, Girl Scouts and PTA.

NEWS

of the suburban areas

We're going to hop right into the news today. Suburbia is just bursting at the seams with fun, visitors, parties and trips.

EASTRIDGE

Homecoming news from Eastridge. Mrs. Franklin Knudtson will have as her house guests Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gardener and son Brad from Oakland, Calif. Also coming in for football and visiting are Mrs. Alvina Piller and Mrs. Dorothy Belz and her children Larry, Laurel and Kathy, all of Stanton. Mrs. Knudtson will hostess a family dinner after the football activities Saturday.

Eastridge is minus a family and Trenwood has gained one. Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Knuth have left their 5900 Margo Dr. address and now are residing at 1615 Janssen. Enjoying their new home are the four young Knuths, Susie, Steve, Sandie and Scott.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Pohlman had house guests last week. Mr. and Mrs. Dick Drachenberg of Grosse Point, Mich., were visiting in the city.

Last Thursday night Mr. and Mrs. William H. Zeitz entertained at dinner in honor of the visiting Drachenbergs.

NORTHEAST HEIGHTS

There will be two celebrations going on Sunday for Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Brehm. The Brehms will be celebrating their Oct. 29th wedding anniversary and also Mr. Brehm's birthday which is Oct. 23rd.

Hosting a family dinner Sunday for the couple will be Mr. Brehm's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brehm. Guests at the get-together will be the Brehms children, Laurie, Robert, Lisa and Lynne, Mrs. Brehm's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Bodensteiner; George Bodensteiner and Mrs. Charles Bodensteiner.

Last weekend Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Schlegel left Lincoln for a few restful days at their cabin on the Blue River. Traveling with the Schlegels were Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Behrends and Mrs. Schlegel's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kuenning. The young Schegels, Alan and Brenda, spent the weekend with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Schlegel, at Milford.

Friday evening Mrs. Loren Wilson will hostess a baby shower at her home when she entertains in honor of Mrs. Warren Lynn and her new son, Daniel Carl. Co-hostesses for the party will be Mrs. Tom McAnally and Mrs. Ed Cotner. There will be 30 guests to welcome the new arrival.

Travelers to the Kansas-Nebraska game in Manhattan last Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Dale A. Ankrom and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Shadley.

HOLLYWOOD HEIGHTS

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Grapes will be on their way to Big Springs this weekend to visit Mr. Grapes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Grapes. Joining them for the trip will be Mrs. Grapes' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Clancy Croft of Omaha. While in Big Springs the menfolk will do some pheasant hunting.

COTNER TERRACE

Mr. and Mrs. Dwaine Karr and their children, Steven and Karen, entertained Mrs. Karr's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Mull of Beaver Crossing last weekend.

Entertaining football guests this weekend are Mr. and Mrs. Loye Bouton. The guests, ardent CU fans, will be Mrs. Bouton's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Mast of Julesburg, Colo.

There has been activity other than that involving visitors in suburbia. Saturday was party time for Diane Mroz, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mroz. Diane celebrated her fifth birthday with a party to which she invited her friends Scott and Felicia McKinney, Kathy and Marty Moore and Warren and Kathy Mitchell. And helping their sister celebrate were brother Mark and sister Kathy.

TOWN TALK

You'll never believe it — but no game weekend news this morning — excepting, of course, what everyone already knows —that Greek letter row has post-game plans. The sororities are holding open house for their alumnae members — and the fraternities are celebrating with their alumni here, there and everywhere—all over town.

We mentioned that this was a dawn without news of game guests which doesn't mean that we do not have news of guests. Arriving from New York City late on Tuesday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. John Marley who will spend a day or two—or three in Lincoln as the guests of Mr. Marley's aunt, Mrs. Jessie Foot.

And we hear that Mrs. Willard Yates arrived from Carmel, Calif. last Sunday, although she is making her headquarters at Clayton House. She will visit her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Burnham Yates. Mrs. Yates also will be devoting much of her time to her many Lincoln friends.

And we have homecomers to talk about this morning. Already back in town are Mr. and Mrs. Bennett Martin who returned from the east coast a few days ago. Mr. and Mrs. Martin went first to Bennington, Vt., where they visited their daughter, Miss Mary Ann Martin. During their stay in Bennington, Mr. and Mrs. Martin attended the Fall Festival where they were fortunate enough to see an art show composed of Grandma Moses originals.

From Bennington to New York City went Mr. and Mrs. Martin, and in New York they joined Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weaver who, as you might guess, took the Martins with them on their rounds of antique shops. Mr. and Mrs. Weaver, by the way, returned home just last evening.

We think we might say that the high spot of the New York stay for Mr. and Mrs. Martin was the visit to the new Brooklyn public library which, you'll be interested in learning, has a budget of 7 million dollars. The Martins of the Bennett Martin Library in Lincoln, were enthusiastic about the library in Brooklyn, and especially were pleased with the role a former Lincoln resident, Miss Dorothy Leland, plays in its success. Miss Leland, daughter of the Rev. Dean R. Leland of Lincoln, is head of the children's department at the Brooklyn library, but also serves in the capacity of assistant director.

You may or may not know that Miss Leland's sister, Mrs. Frederick Bentley (Elizabeth Leland) is on the staff of the Bennett Martin Library.

ABBY

it seems that he already knows

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am an 18-year-old girl with a problem —my father. He's really a doll, and I don't have any of the problems my girl friends seem to have with their fathers about make-up, hair styles, curfews and the kind of boys they date. But the one thing that bothers me is my father's staying up and waiting for me to come home from a date. If he'd only sit in the dark somewhere, in the house, I wouldn't mind so much. But the minute the car pulls up, the front door pops open, and there's Daddy. Of course this kills my chances for a good night kiss. How can I let my father know I'm not a baby any more?

NO KISSES

DEAR NO: He knows. That's why he's waiting up for you.

DEAR ABBY: Our servicemen are now on what is called the "honor system." They no longer make out allotments for their families. They are issued full pay, and put on their "honor" to see that their families are taken care of. Well, I am very sorry to say that some of our servicemen don't have much honor. Mine included.

Abby, it took me seven months before I was able to get money out of my husband to feed my family. I finally found out how to go about it, and I hope you'll publish my letter because there are a lot of other wives with the same problem.

Write to the ADJUTANT GENERAL, T.A.G. U.S.

Attendants Named

This morning Miss Marlene Kiser, whose marriage to Dwight Splitt will be solemnized on Sunday, Oct. 24, at the Methodist Church in Archer, makes announcement of the members of the bridal party.

For her matron of honor Miss Kiser has chosen her sister, Mrs. Ralph Condon of ARMY (or whatever branch of service your husband is in), WASHINGTON, D.C. Tell him what your problem is, give him your husband's full name, rank and serial number. Make four copies of that letter. Keep one yourself, send one to your husband and one to your husband's Commanding Officer. THEY will remind the serviceman that his family back home must eat. I got results!

SKIP MY NAME

Grand Island, and her bridesmaids will be Miss Lila Kiser, also a sister, and Miss Sharon Splitt of Murray, a sister of the bridegroom.

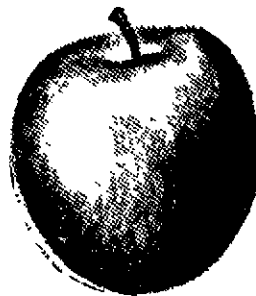

Merlin Kompke of Lincoln will serve Mr. Splitt as best man, and seating the guests will be Jerry Kiser of Central City; Ralph Condon of Grand Island, and Gene Harms of Kearney.

Complexion Beautifier

The complexion takes on new beauty through the use of a tropical moist oil that checks dryness of the skin's surface cells. Being isotonic in action, it revitalizes the plasma colloids (the skin's water carriers) and the complexion takes on a glorious, youthful bloom. Smoothed over the face and neck before make-up is applied this moist oil of Olay makes the complexion youthfully clear, and lovely.

WHY Grow Old? questions, answers

Josephine Lowman

Q. When I give my measurements such as 34-24-34 inches, is the bust measurement the bra size or is it the measurement of the fullest part of the bust?

A. The measurement is not the bra size but is taken around the fullest part of the bust.

Q. The other day I read that wearing rollers to bed would cause baldness. I would hate to think that some day I would become bald but the only way for my hair to look nice the next day is to wear it in rollers to bed at night. Have you any suggestions?

A. Many authorities feel that sleeping in rollers may be one of the factors which lead to thinning hair. It certainly cannot be good for the hair. Can't you roll your hair up during the evening whenever you are going to be at home and then remove the rollers before going to sleep? Then sleep in a hair net.

Q. Does teasing the hair hurt it?

A. Experts disagree about this. No one can say that it is beneficial to the hair but many feel that if the teasing is brushed or combed out carefully it is not injurious.

If you have very fine or very dry hair, teasing may cause it to break off. I am talking now about mild teasing, not the extreme job.

Q. I have practically no hips but my waist is thick and I have a large abdomen. I am not underweight but a little overweight. No matter what I weigh my legs remain just like pipestems, no curve at all. What can I do? Why is this?

A. You have described one of the typical figure types. Weight distribution is individual and is affected by the glandular setup. The only way you can get that curve in your legs is to develop the calf muscles.

Q. I am 45 years old. I always had thick eyebrows but all of a sudden mine are thinning so that I am really frightened about it. What can I do and why should this happen? Forty-five is not old, I didn't think.

A. Eyebrows, like hair, have a tendency to thin in older age but I agree that 45 is not old, and of course this doesn't always happen anyway. The sudden thinning suggests a complete physical checkup because there are conditions which could cause this and which can be corrected.

Q. Help! I am 13 years old and weigh 120 pounds. I am 5 feet 3 and my frame is medium. I know I am overweight but how much? Please answer this as soon as possible.

A. You are not very much overweight, just from six to eight pounds. You can lose that easily by cutting out some between-meal snacks and leaving off seconds.

Q. I have dark circles under my eyes although I am in excellent health. My mother has these also. I have heard that this is inherited. Is this true? Will my daughter have dark circles, too, and is there anything I can do about it?

A. This characteristic does seem to run in families sometimes. However, this does not mean that your children will necessarily have dark circles. Thanks to modern cosmetics you can cover these so that they need not be the defect in beauty they once were.

Bride-Elect Honored

To be honored guest on Thursday evening will be Miss Donna Yonkey, a November bride-elect, who will be presented a linen shower at a party for which Mrs. Merlin Johnson and Mrs. Arthur Yonkey, Jr., will be hostesses.

Miss Yonkey, who will become the bride of Donald H. Doolittle of Columbus, on Saturday, Nov. 20, also will be honored on Wednesday evening, Nov. 27, when Mrs. Fred Rickert will be hostess at her home. Co-hostesses for the dessert supper and miscellaneous shower will be Mrs. Ernest Isaacson, Mrs. Donald Wilcox, Mrs. C. V. Carlson and Mrs. Ford Templeton.

Mrs. Bill Mowrey also will entertain for the soon-to-be bride at a prenuptial courtesy to be held at her home on Friday evening, Nov. 5, and honoring the bride-elect at a shower on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 7, will be Mrs. Ed Moormeier of Roca. Assisting Mrs. Moormeier as hostesses will be her daughter, Mrs. Warren Kolder, her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ed

Moormeier, Jr., and Mrs. Roger Graul.

The bride-elect, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Yonkey, was presented a personal shower recently at a party given by Miss Betty Klaumann.

The wedding of Miss Yonkey and Mr. Doolittle, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn R. Doolittle of Roca, will take place at an evening ceremony.

The bidding:
Opening lead — queen of clubs.

Nobody ever contended that Endplay Charlie was a really great player. His bidding was bad, his defense was mediocre, and his dummy play, except for his one outstanding talent, left much to be desired.

But when it came to endplays, nobody could touch Charlie. He could smell an endplay a mile away, and he was never happier than when he was executing one. This talent of his was really exceptional, and if the rest of his game had only been on a par with it, he would have been regarded by many as the best player in the world.

Here is an example of the kind of situation where Charlie was supreme. West probably shouldn't have doubled six spades—certainly not with Endplay Charlie as declarer—but, holding what he thought were two sure trump tricks, he did.

Charlie proceeded to wrap the contract right around his neck. Alerted by the double that West had all the missing trumps, Charlie played the hand so as to hold West to one trump trick.

He discarded a heart on the king of clubs and then ruffed a club. After cashing the A-K of diamonds and ruffing a diamond, he trumped the five of clubs in his hand. Next he played the A-K of hearts and ruffed a heart, at which point this became the position:

Charlie now led the ace of clubs, ruffing it with the eight, and then played the jack of diamonds. It did not matter which card West decided to ruff with. All he could get was one trump trick.

Fans Sometimes Forgetful

Nearly every year something happens that casts a reflection on the otherwise jubilant scene of collegiate football. Three years ago, it was the alleged telephone incident between Alabama coach Bear Bryant and Georgia athletic director Wally Butts. A year ago it was the premature signing of pro contracts by four Oklahoma players.

This season, it happened last Saturday when a few Iowa fans booed quarterback Gary Snook while his Hawkeyes were losing to Minnesota.

The incident points up a well-known fact in collegiate football. Whenever anyone makes the accusation that college football is being over-emphasized, it should be pointed out that the over-emphasis does not come from the coaches or players.

It comes from the fans — the fans who deluge sports departments every week with calls because they can't wait to see how their team is rated; the fans who become irate because they can't get tickets to see their team play; the fans who can't remember even a year in reverse when Gary Snook was setting most of Iowa's passing records.

Sports fans are more fickle than the most fickle-hearted girl you've ever known. They can change their song quicker than a musician playing a melody.

The Iowa incident is close to home since they are our neighbor state. But you don't have to go back many years to remember that Husker fans were booing NU quarterback Harry Tolly.

Tolly is one of the finest gentlemen to come through Nebraska and was named the outstanding trainee in his Air National Guard unit at Lackland Air Force Base in Texas. He now is completing his final year in the NU Dental College. It would be our guess that Harry Tolly and Gary Snook both will amount to much more than those few people who tossed boos their way.

Sport Shirt And Slacks

The first thing the fan forgets in the frenzy of a Saturday afternoon is that the player he may be critical of is likely not even of voting age.

He strolls into the football dressing quarters with a book under his arm and wearing a pair of Ivy League slacks and sport shirt.

The only thing distinguishing him from the other students who are in the Student Union on a coffee date or at the nearest tavern from 3 to 6 p.m. is the fact that he is among a select group who has some football-playing ability.

He also may be a little above the average cut of student because he is learning what competition is. He also is learning how to win and how to lose. He is learning how to work in a unit.

You can put him several notches above the long-haired, unshaven college student who is out leading demonstrations in front of the library or on the street corner.

The next time you are thinking of criticizing a college football player because he failed to defeat the opponent by the point spread or because he made a mistake, remember a couple of things.

He is not a professional. He is a student first and a football player second. If the biggest mistake he ever makes in life is not completing every pass he throws or if he misses a block, he still is far above those few fans who will be booing.

Every fan should have the opportunity to see the Bill Johnsons, Larry Wachholtzes, Frank Soliches, Fred Dudas, Bob Churchiches and others walk into a dressing room every afternoon dressed in the same clothes that the average student is wearing.

It would make him think twice about booing that incomplete pass or becoming upset because they won by only 10 and not 28.

Huskers Grab Scoring Lead

... 2ND IN TOTAL OFFENSE

By Associated Press

New York (AP) — The University of Nebraska is continuing a strong bid for national offense honors among major college football teams while rivals are falling off the pace.

In crushing Kansas State 41-0 for its fifth straight victory, the Cornhuskers strengthened their position as the leader in rushing offense, moved up to second behind faltering West Virginia in total offense and took over the scoring lead from West Virginia which was throttled by Virginia 41-0.

In rushing offense, the Cornhuskers are averaging 293.0 points a game and in scoring they are going at a 36.6 points per game clip. In rushing, they have a better than ten-yard average lead over second place Southern California. In point-making, they top West Virginia, 183 to 178, both having played five games.

In total offense, Nebraska is pressing West Virginia with 424.4 yards average compared with the Mountaineers' 427.2. Texas Western is third in total offense but paces the air-minded teams with a 370.6

yard average gain through passes alone. Tulsa is second with 293.6.

Purdue, which meets Michigan State this week in the headline game, moved from sixth to third in the passing department and proved itself the most accurate by far. The Boilermakers have a .662 completion rate followed by Georgia Tech with .609.

Opening with the traditional freshman-varsity meet, the Cornhusker schedule lists thirteen other duals, the Big 8 Conference Meet March 3-5, and the NCAA Championships March 24-26.

The freshman squad will face an expanded slate with four meets on this year's schedule.

The schedule:

Jan. 8 — Kansas Univ. at Lawrence 1:00;
Jan. 15 — Southern Illinois at Lincoln 1:00;
Feb. 4 — Missouri at Lincoln 6:30.

Kansas City, Mo.—The expected is near. Nebraska has five of the team statistical leads in the Big Eight Conference and has taken dead aim on the sixth as it attempts to become the first to sweep all six in a season.

Just missing the grand sweep by one last year, Nebraska now has to catch only Kansas in pass defense to put the Cornhuskers atop all six. Since the start of the season the Jayhawkers have been best in pass defense, this week showing an 80-yard allowance. Nebraska is second at 98.8, and the margin is shrinking.

In fact, a general tightening of the Nebraska defense in the last three weeks has seen the Cornhuskers drop their average almost 25 yards in rushing, 54 in passing, and 79 overall.

This move by the Nebraska Black Shirts is not only shown by the lead in rushing and total defense and the second spot in pass allowance,

In the other two offensive categories, Missouri is second best with a 261 rushing average and 321 total mark. Defensively, the most pressure being put on the Huskers is supplied by Colorado, which shows a 75.2 rushing defensive standard and 182.8 total overall.

Offensively, the Nebraska now have a 424.4 average in total offense to become the first team in the Conference to rack up over 2,000 yards and score over 150 points—183 to be exact—let alone 100 points. Both of these totals, however, are still off the record pace set by the 1956 Oklahoma team, which scored 466 points and gained 4,817 yards.

Also apparently out of the Cornhuskers' reach is the seasonal rushing record of 3,910 by the same Oklahoma unit. The Nebraska are going along with a lofty 293 mark.

Elgin St. Boniface, Western Top Class D, 8-Man Charts

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

Elgin St. Boniface and Western continue to top the Class D and eight-man divisions of the Nebraska Prep Ratings as the season enters its final month.

St. Boniface solidified its grip on the No. 1 spot in Class D when it thumped Class C Dodge, 39-13.

Meanwhile No. 2 Hartington was squeezing out a 13-7 win over Tilden, another Class C outfit.

Third-ranked Clarks had even a closer call as it preserved its unbeaten record. It scored in the final eight seconds to nip Class C Stromsburg, 7-6.

Wins over respected Class C opposition keep the three leaders firmly entrenched at the top of the pack.

The only revisions in the Class D chart come in the second division, prompted by Dalton's upset of previously unbeaten Dix, No. 6 last week. The setback spills Dix from the top ten.

Spalding Academy, Wolbach, Palmer and Coleridge each move up one spot with Lawrence re-entering the chart at the No. 10 position.

Strong recent showings in Class D action and a 13-6 loss to Fairmont, an unbeaten Class C power which has flattened all other opposition, boost the Lawrence club.

Western, Overton, Cedar Bluffs, and Maywood continue to run 1-2-3-4 in the eight-man race.

Sutherland moves up to No. 5, dropping high-scoring Prague back to No. 6, and Waco advances to the No. 7 spot.

Paxton, one-point loser to Sutherland, is the only rated team not sporting a perfect record. The Tigers are No. 8, followed by a pair of unbeaten newcomers — Naponee and Campbell.

Naponee has received maximum mileage from its 12-man roster.

Campbell moves up after dropping Juniata from the unbeaten ranks.

The major test in eight-man ranks this week sends Beaver Crossing, loser only to Western, against Waco in the battle for Crossroads Conference honors.

—COLORADO'S GREER CLASSY KICK RETURNER— Huskers Emphasize Kicking Game

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Nebraska concentrated Tuesday on its kicking game with an eye toward the invasion of the Big Eight's second best returner, Colorado's Charles Greer who ranks behind only the Huskers Larry Wachholtz in that department.

"Colorado has the finest punt return man we have faced," NU coach Bob Devaney noted. Greer has returned 15 punts for 265 yards this season.

Husker assistant John Melton, who scouted the Buffs in their 10-10 tie Saturday with Iowa State, came back to Lincoln praising Greer's punt return abilities.

"He did such a good job against Iowa State in the first half that in the second half, they just started kicking the ball out of bounds to keep Greer from returning them," Melton said.

"We weren't real pleased with our kicking game against Kansas State both in kicking and returning," Devaney added. "However, most of the problem with our returns was because of circumstances."

"When Kansas State was kicking into the wind, they were kicking short so we didn't have time to set up a return and when they had the wind, their kicker did a good job of getting the ball high to stop our returns."

The Husker coach indicated most of the trouble with the kicking game itself was in the coverage rather than in the punting and sophomore Al Kuehl will continue to do the punting this week.

Kuehl took over the punting chores for the Wisconsin game when Ron Kirkland was injured the previous week against Iowa State.

Kirkland and defensive end Langston Coleman, who have missed the last two games with injured shoulders, took part in all Husker drills Tuesday including the contact drills and are expected to be ready by Saturday.

Offensive half back Ken Brunk and linebacker Mike Kennedy, both injured against Kansas State, also were in uniform for Tuesday's workout.

Wayne Meylan and Jim Osberg alternated at right guard on the offensive platoon and Devaney said the decision on the starter there would not be made until later in the week.

Meylan started the first three games, but Osberg earned the starting role for the Wisconsin and Kansas State contests.

Large Press Corps

The largest press corps of the season will watch the Nebraska-Colorado homecoming battle Saturday at Memorial Stadium.

In addition to the Nebraska writers, out-of-state media will include the Des Moines Register, Wichita Beacon, Kansas City Star, Sports Illustrated, Tel-Ra Productions, Look Magazine, The Denver Post and The Rocky Mountain News.

Two Bowls Visiting

Representatives from the Sugar Bowl and the Orange Bowl will watch Saturday's game at Memorial Stadium.

The Sugar Bowl with Dr. Fred Wolfe Jr. and one other official will be watching the Huskers for the second time this season. Dr. Wolfe saw the Nebraska win over Wisconsin.

The Orange Bowl will send president Robert Hector and selection committee member Jim Llewellyn to the contest.

Senkbeil Top Tackler

Linebackers Lynn Senkbeil and Mike Kennedy lead Nebraska in tackles with 42 and 33 respectively.

Walt Barnes, who started the season a middle guard and now is playing tackle, is the leading lineman with 28 stops, followed by Richard Czap with 18 and Langston Coleman 16 among the linemen.

Bill Johnson leads the backs with 25 tackles, followed by Larry Wachholtz with 21, Kaye Carstens 20, Marv Mueller 18 and Ted Vactor 17.

Babbs No. 2 QB As Buffs Offense Readies For NU

Boulder, Colo. (AP)—Sophomore Dave Babbs was back at his No. 2 quarterback post Tuesday as Colorado stepped up drills for Saturday's game with Nebraska.

Babbs who missed last week's game because of a flu attack, moved ahead of Dan Kelly, another sophomore with injury troubles.

The quarterbacks were throwing the ball often during the offensive portion of the workout as the Buffs worked hard on all phases of offense.

PUNT RETURN ACE... Charles Greer.

TICKET DISPUTE... Pittenger Refutes Allegation

A University of Nebraska official Tuesday denied Republican Congressman Dave Martin's allegation that "White House pressure" was used to secure Nebraska-Wisconsin football tickets for postmasters attending a national convention in Omaha.

Jim Pittenger, assistant athletic director and ticket manager for the university, said the postmasters' request for tickets was submitted last winter, long before the Oct. 9 game became a sell-out.

"The original ticket request of the postmasters was scaled down and filled, partly with bleacher seats," Pittenger said. "My only contact was with the Omaha and Lincoln postmasters who were planning the convention."

"Absolutely no political pressure was applied to me or other university staff members to provide the tickets."

He said the postmasters were allotted a total of 500 tickets at regular prices for the game, which Nebraska won, 37-0.

The tickets became the center of a political squabble after Congressman Martin said he suspected "White House pressure" was used to obtain the tickets. He made the comment at a North Platte banquet Saturday.

State Democratic chairman John Mitchell of Kearney fired back Monday that the Martin statement "appears to be a completely unfounded allegation." He demanded that the Third District Congressman "withdraw or substantiate" the allegation.

Mitchell said Martin's comment "tended to undermine faith in the University of Nebraska management and the federal government."

Gant Midwest Chess Champion

George Gant, New York City, has won the Lincoln Chess Foundation's Midwest Open Tournament. He received $50.

Gilbert Ramirez of Bellevue was the highest finishing Nebraskan. He was awarded the state championship trophy.

Ten dollar awards went to Ramirez, Mark Hutchison and Warren Wittekind, both of Omaha.

Links' Reuben Worster Wins Player Of The Week Award

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

Had it not been for a 12-6 win over Southeast at Seacrest Field Friday night Lincoln High might have made some sort of an attempt to move its games back to the old Oval.

It was the first success against a rival Lincoln school at Seacrest Field in the four years that the new facility has been in use.

For his contributions to the winning effort Lincoln High's Reuben Worster earns Player of the Week honors.

The quarterback-linebacker turned in a fine two-way performance in the triumph.

Hitting his first five passes and finishing with a seven for nine performance and 104 yards he gave the Links, traditionally a grind-it-out club, a strong air game in support of the running attack.

The running game included a five-yard touchdown plunge by Worster which gave the Links a 6-0 lead. The second touchdowns by Jim Riggins was set up by a 30-yard, Worster to Steve Hanneman pass.

Reuben and the following performers will receive recognition for their top efforts last week:

Al Klaus, Beatrice — Junior quarterback engineered 57-7 rout of Nebraska City with passing, nifty ball handling.

Richard Weiner, Odell — Caught 16 passes for 207 yards and four touchdowns in 33-26 win over Beatrice St. Joseph.

Dan Sears, Decatur — Sparkled on defense, ran for two touchdowns, passed for third, scored on intercepted pass in 26-0 win over Bancroft.

Meryl Rich, Waco — Scored of team's points on 35, 50, 70-yard runs and 34-yard pass and intercepted two Elmwood passes to spark 24-20 win.

Terry Foote, Hastings St. Cecilia — All-around lineman sparked in debut at full back as Blue Hawks stopped Grand Island Northwest, 32-0.

Mike Taylor, Cambridge — Center and linebacker played major role as Trojans stopped Franklin's unbeaten string, 19-7.

Allan Schmidt, Campbell — Linebacker had a hand in 28 victories as Junata's ground attack was throttled in 26-18 win over previously unbeaten foe.

Dennis Van Pelt, Clarks — Helped preserve Clarks' unbeaten record by catching 1 down, was instrumental in derailing pass, kicking extra point with eight seconds left to give mates 7-6 win over St. Mary's.

Terry Geiger, David Aquinas — Pass theft, passing and running helped Monarchs handle Columbus Scotus, 13-3.

Officials Agree Airline Service Improvement Needed

Local and state officials Tuesday agreed that efforts have to be made to improve commercial airline service for Lincoln.

Allen Gotch, head of a Washington, D.C., consulting firm, said a recent survey indicated that Lincoln is receiving "provincial" and inadequate service for a city its size.

Attending the informal session were members of the Lincoln Airport Authority, Mayor Dean Petersen, State Aeronautics Director James Sandstedt, aeronautics council member Rush Clarke and representatives of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce.

Gotch told those attending that the exchange of ideas among the group would enable him to prepare specific recommendations of how to improve commercial air service within 30 days.

He said one of the prime objectives is to get a reasonable frequency of single-plane service.

While Lincoln shouldn't press for non-stop service at this point, the city is entitled to one-stop flights to New York or Washington, D.C., he said.

Gotch pointed out that the problem with the present local "self-feeding" service is that airlines cannot support their big equipment with a high enough frequency.

But increased shuttle service, he said, is not the answer.

Other highlights of the discussion:

—Airport Authority Chairman Fred Eiche said there are "good relations between the authority and the carriers up to a certain point."

—Cooperation Urged

—Gotch observed that cooperation between Lincoln and Omaha might accomplish more than individual effort in solving aviation problems common to both cities.

If service is improved in Lincoln and Omaha, the rest of the state will follow along, Sandstedt added.

All agreed that better scheduling out of Omaha is a key to improved service in Lincoln.

2 Firms, Lincolnite Hit By Fraud Complaint

The Federal Securities and Exchange Commission Tuesday filed a complaint against two Nebraska firms and a Lincoln businessman alleging they carried out a $100,000 securities fraud.

The complaint was filed with the U.S. District Court by attorneys for the commission's regional office in Denver, Colo.

Defendants were named as the Securities Investors, Inc., Dosek Bonding and Insurance, Inc., and Edward A. Dosek, a 1964 candidate for the state Democratic nomination.

They said the defendants received $72,125 in cash payments for stock transactions, and an additional $28,000 to $30,000 in notes or other financial backing.

A hearing on the injunction will be held Oct. 29 at 1:30 p.m. before Van Pelt.

The complaint, filed under the anti-fraud provisions of the 1933-34 Securities Exchange Act, alleged that proceeds obtained from the sale of securities were used by Dosek "for his own personal use, benefit, enrichment and pleasure with only a nominal amount, if any, of said proceeds being expended for the benefit of Securities Investors, Inc., and were not held in trust for the benefit of investors."

Hospital Council Approves New Radio Isotope Facility

Lincoln Hospital and Health Council members Tuesday went on record approving St. Elizabeth Hospital's acquisition of the "more sophisticated kind" of radio isotope equipment "for the present."

The members left a provision in the resolution which would permit approval of similar equipment installations in other hospitals in the future if there is a demand for it.

St. Elizabeth council members proposed the use of the new Magna Scanner on a community-wide basis to avoid duplication of expensive and infrequently used equipment.

Inquest Into Lincoln Woman's Death Continued

Kearney (UPI) — A coroner's inquest was continued Tuesday into the death of a young woman from Lincoln.

The collision of a car and a parked semi-trailer truck here late Friday claimed the life of Mrs. Sharon Ann Spence, 22, and injured three others.

new equipment would be "operative in a matter of days," said that community cooperation on the project would conserve costs of the advanced scanner, space to house it and technically trained operators.

The Magna Scanner is primarily used on ambulant patients, he said, or it can be taken to other hospitals "in extreme cases."

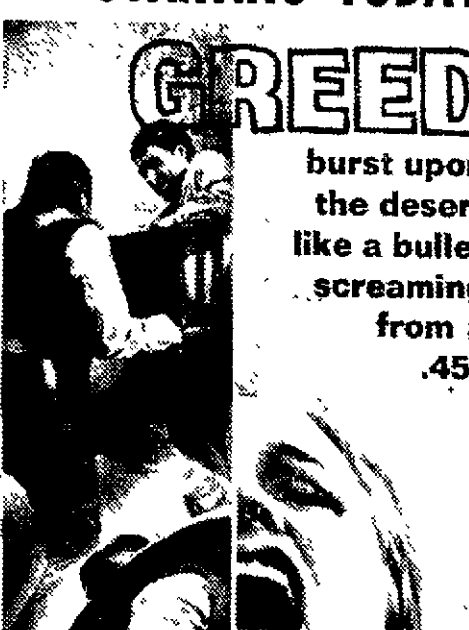

The inquest was started Tuesday but it was continued because two witnesses were unable to attend. A date will be set.

Hospitalized were Robert G. Martz of Beatrice, driver of the car, and two other passengers, Mary McDaniel of Lincoln and Charles Langly of Beatrice.

The truck was parked and unoccupied at the time of the accident.

Released Time In Ohio Ruled Unconstitutional

Celina, Ohio (AP)—A judge ruled Tuesday that it is all right for Roman Catholic nuns to teach in Ohio public schools, but that it is unconstitutional to release students during school for religious instruction.

The ruling by Common Pleas Judge Fred Cramer came in a suit filed two years ago by Jesse C. Moore of nearby Fort Recovery against the southwest local school district in that predominantly Catholic area near the Indiana state line.

A spokesman for the school board indicated an appeal would be filed.

Release Time
Four schools in the southwest local district, Moore complained, have maintained a practice of "release time"—allowing students out of school an hour a day, taking them out of the school building and letting them have religious instruction on nonschool property, theoretically on nonschool time.

The judge issued an injunction compelling the schools to halt the practice. Moore alleged that the school board had sanctioned a policy whereby public funds were spent in operation of a Parochial school.

Three of the four public schools involved are made up entirely of Roman Catholics while one has a predominantly Protestant enrollment. "The relationship between the church and the board might even be described as a holy alliance . . ." Judge Cramer said.

SHASTRI PLANS TO VISIT U.S.

Washington (AP)—A high Indian official said after a talk with Secretary of State Dean Rusk Tuesday that India's Prime Minister Shastri may come here for a visit sometime after Dec. 10 when the Indian parliament adjourns.

S. K. Patil, minister of railways who is here on a special mission for the New Delhi government, said that the timing of the visit "depends upon the health of our President."

"At any rate, they have to meet," Patil said. "It is essential."

Last Sunday, Pakistan's Foreign Minister Z. A. Bhutto told newsmen that President Ayub Khan would like to come to Washington as soon as possible, but his departure would depend upon the cease-fire with India becoming secure.

They are Arnold Black of Lakeside, Gene Gerdes of Alliance, Lawrence M. Chapman of Omaha, Michael Yanney of Omaha, Robert Raun of Minden and William Norton of Osceola.

Nathan J. Gold of Lincoln was reappointed to a two-year term as were Black and Gerdes. The other appointments were for four years.

Dave Powell of Norfolk, whose term ends in 1967, is a carry-over member of the committee.

The committee has scheduled its first meeting for Friday in Lincoln.

teaching in public schools, Cramer said. "The religious habit on garb . . . does not convert the school at which they teach into a sectarian school or create sectarian control within the purview of the constitutions, state and federal both."

Segregation
The judge held that religious segregation exists in the school district but that nothing bans such segregation.

Cramer said there have been findings—specifically showing a harmful effect of school segregation upon the Negro child.

"There are no such harmful effects in the schools in this district," he said.

The suit was looked upon as a test case bound to reach the Ohio Supreme Court.

Montana Oil Well Yields 1,128 Barrels

Denver (AP)—A discovery in Richland County, Mont., has flowed 1,128 barrels of oil in a deep test, Petroleum Information reported Tuesday in its weekly summary of Rocky Mountain and High Plains activity.

The well, drilled by Southern Pacific Production and Consolidated Oil & Gas, was described as among the more prolific in the Williston Basin. Petroleum Information said an intended extension is half-way to the Red River objective.

The industry publication also reported that a northwest extension of the Baumgartner oil discovery in Powder River County has also apparently been successful.

A summary by states includes:

Nebraska—Mid-Continent Oil and Steepwell Drilling are reportedly fishing for steel drill pipe at a total depth of about 3,500 feet at 1 Chemillion, nw sw 24-34-19w. It is a scheduled 4,000-foot test to granite in Sherman County. Nearest production is from Pennsylvania in Basin Field nearly 80 miles to the southwest.

South Dakota—Pennzoil Co. is drilling at 8,520 feet on a scheduled 8,700-foot Red River test in Harding County, 12-8 sw nw 8-21-16e.
North Dakota—Amerada Petroleum is drilling at 11,102 feet at its scheduled 12,200-foot test of Red River a mile southwest of Fryburg Field in Billings County, 1 USA-Hodge, nw ne 21-13-101w. A driftest test of Madison recovered 360 feet of highly gas and oil cut water and 1,820 feet of oil, gas and water cut mud.

Codes Being Used On State Gas Warrants

State Administrative Services Director Willard Townsend said Tuesday that city and county treasurers are being advised of coded account numbers on state warrants.

Code numbers rather than names appeared on recently-distributed warrants for gas tax allocations and some minor confusion resulted as to which fund was which.

Distributed simultaneously was the Shroeder mail route money, the special half-cent tax, and the regular gas tax funds.

Townsend said the state warrants will have only a code number unless the issuing department also handstamps the fund's name on the warrant.

A department official said all local governmental subdivisions receiving state funds will be advised of state account numbers so they may identify the fund or appropriation on which the warrant is drawn.

USDA Wants Pasture-Shelf Meat Checks

Washington (AP)—The government asked Tuesday for a major overhaul of meat inspection laws that would extend federal control to every step in meat production from pastures to store shelves.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman asked the changes in proposed legislation sent to Congress.

He said the proposals would broaden the law to cover meat sold in the state where it is produced and to include certain animals not now inspected.

The proposed amendments also would provide cooperative agreements and joint financing with state governments that would exempt from federal inspection meat passed by state inspectors meeting federal standards.

Freeman specifically asked for authority to extend and strengthen inspection of commercial slaughterers and processors and to provide for both registration and record keeping by meat brokers, renderers, animal food manufacturers, warehousemen and all who "process, handle, transport, store or sell meat and meat food products."

Freeman said in a statement that additional authority is required to provide for inspection of about 15% of the commercial meat slaughter and about 35% of commercially processed meat products that now receive no federal inspection.

Most of the uninspected meat does not cross state lines, Freeman said.

Ag Groups Plan For Centennial

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

Grand Island — If Nebraska agricultural leaders have their say the world will recognize Nebraska as a No. 1 source of food and fiber during the 1967 Nebraska Centennial.

Plans to demonstrate agriculture's importance in the state's history and future occupied the attention here Tuesday of virtually all organized agricultural groups and agencies in the state.

More than 120 persons participated in what State Senator Stanley A. Matzke of Milford, centennial ag committee chairman, termed a meeting to brainstorm ideas for activities and projects which will give full force to agriculture.

A method to identify the many products produced in Nebraska as they leave the state met with strong approval from those present.

A National Agricultural

Program Nixed

Omaha (UPI)—The Douglas County Board Tuesday defeated a proposed mandatory retirement program for county employees. It had been asked to make it mandatory that employees retire at the age of 68, with a two-year allowance for special exceptions. The measure failed on a 2-2 vote.

Youth Camp that would be attended by the two top agricultural youths of each state who would participate in a two week study and visit to the state was outlined by Dean Elvin Frolik of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture.

In addition to numerous national agricultural events during 1967 those interested in agriculture have proposed revolving stage of progress shows demonstrating the superiority of Nebraska in agriculture in various communities.

Special programs are also planned for county fairs and the State Fair for the big 1967 event.

Not Just Cak

Most agricultural spokesmen attending the meeting here indicated a preference for a Centennial program that would furnish benefits that went beyond "just celebrating in 1967." They favored programs that would bring worldwide attention to the future of agriculture in Nebraska.

Among the many proposals submitted during the day was the establishment of a special International Agricultural Prize, similar to the Nobel Prize, that would be presented annually for the outstanding worldwide contribution to agriculture.

It was suggested that with the idea originating in Nebraska, the seat for the program should be conducted from the state with the first award made in 1967 as a Centennial program to mark the great achievements in agriculture.

It was estimated that to create such an endowment it would require a permanent foundation of nearly $3 million.

Kennedy Says Dirksen Playing Politics

Washington (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., accused Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen Tuesday night of using Francis X. Morrissey's nomination to a federal judgeship for "partisan political purposes."

Kennedy expressed confidence "there are more votes in favor of the nomination than oppose."

He issued a statement after Dirksen said that he expects more than 40 votes for a motion to send Morrissey's nomination back to the Senate Judiciary Committee for further consideration.

Friend

The nomination of Morrissey, a Boston Municipal Court judge and old friend of the Kennedy family, was not brought up for Senate action Tuesday as originally planned. Instead the Senate leadership took up a sugar quota bill.

Dirksen said after a meeting of the Senate GOP policy committee that he thinks all 32 Republican senators will vote to send Morrissey's nomination back to committee.

The Illinois senator said he also expects enough Democratic votes to raise the total to over 40.

A simple majority of those voting is needed for confirmation.

He described Morrissey as unqualified by intellectual capacity and legal training and experience to serve as a U.S. district judge in Massachusetts.

FBI Report

Kennedy said "a large number of senators" told him that the facts developed in a new FBI report on Morrissey, made public Monday night,

One Of Last GI Turncoats Leaves China

Hong Kong (UPI) — Morris R. Wills, one of 21 American GIs who elected to stay in Communist China after the Korean War, returned to the West Tuesday, tight-lipped and pale.

Wills, a strapping six-footer from Fort Ann, N.Y., strode across the covered railway bridge that separates Red China from this British crown colony without incident.

With him were his Chinese wife, Li Kai-yen, 25, and their daughter, 15-month-old Peking.

"I will not speak to a body now," Wills snapped at reporters.

Wills, whose return to the West leaves only three of the 21 defectors still known to be in China, was met at the border by two representatives of the U.S. consulate general and a representative of the British Red Cross.

He appeared nervous after crossing the border. After talking briefly in private with the officials at the border, he rode to the ferry landing on the Kowloon side of Hong Kong harbor.

With his wife, who appeared more relaxed, and their plump, healthy looking daughter, Wills rode the ferry to Hong Kong Island and went to a hotel.

Wills met and married his wife in Peking, the Red Chinese capital, where he and other defectors worked in the government-run foreign language publishing house, which is responsible for Communist Chinese propaganda overseas.

New Cobalt Unit Explained

Two doctors from the Lincoln General Hospital staff Tuesday explained the uses and advantages of a new cobalt unit for combating cancer.

Dr. W. Quentin Bradley and Dr. Arvis Neely presented the information in slide-illustrated talks given before a meeting of the Lancaster County Medical Association.

The doctors also approved hiring of Leonard Peterson as full-time executive secretary of the association. Peterson had been serving in a part-time capacity.

A letter from City Councilman John Mason prompted the association to re-affirm its endorsement of proposed city fluoridation ordinances.

The new cobalt machine, according to Dr. Bradley, is "a little more effective in killing cancer cells without harming the surrounding tissues" than previous tumor-killing methods. It also has a lower cost of operation and requires much less time for treatments.

However, Dr. Neely warned that because of its higher concentration of energy, "cobalt therapy demands more precise and more careful planning."

Michigan State Tops In Judging

Kansas City, Mo. (AP) — Michigan State University won the 35th annual inter-collegiate meat judging contest at the American Royal Livestock show Tuesday night.

The three-man team from MSU scored 2,656 points out of a possible 3,000 to place first among 17 state agricultural colleges and universities in competition.

Other schools finished in the following order: Oklahoma State, South Dakota State, Tennessee, Texas A&M, Ohio State, Wisconsin, Kentucky, Mississippi State, Kansas State, Illinois, Iowa State, Missouri, Florida, North Dakota State, Pennsylvania State and Nebraska.

Frontier Plane Runs Into Truck

Kansas City, Mo. (AP) — A Frontier Airlines plane arriving at Municipal Air Terminal from St. Joseph, Mo., collided with a small truck as it rolled up to a passenger gate Tuesday night.

An airline spokesman said none of those aboard was injured and there was only minor damage. He said the pilot reported the brakes failed because of a loss of pressure in the hydraulic lines which operate them.

The DC3 carried 15 passengers and a crew of three and was operating on flight 195, which originated at Lincoln, Neb.

Its return trip to St. Joseph and Lincoln, was cancelled.

Success Spoils Steal

Tokyo (AP) — Success spoiled the career of Sadahiro Goto, 24, an eight-time loser on small burglaries. Police said he broke into a department store Sunday and made off with jewelry he learned later was valued at $5,500. Police said he surrendered saying: "That's more than I ought to have taken, so I am giving myself up." He blamed drinking.

Hoover Hints Red Club Behind Antiwar Protest

Washington (AP) — J. Edgar Hoover hinted Tuesday night that a Communist youth group is pulling the strings in recent nationwide demonstrations against U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

Leaders of the W. E. B. DuBois Club of America, the FBI director said, "were prominent among Communists who attended a special youth leadership school sponsored by the party last June to prepare for a stepped-up campaign of recruitment and agitation among youth."

"Already this fall, there are signs that these training sessions have begun to bear fruit—in the form of defiant protest against law and authority," he said.

Hoover described the DuBois Clubs as "an illegitimate spawn conceived by the Communist Party and nurtured by a trusted band of youthful adherents to the cause of world Marxism."
